Lisa -
The year for me is almost over, I got to know you to late, but what I know I'm very glad about.
It was always great when I looked back to have such a good looking girl in my class.
You were always nice and friendly and I never saw you been angry. I'm sorry that I never got to know you better!
You are a great person and very good looking!

ps. Have a great Junior year!
Lisa, we didn't talk that much this year I hope were better friends next year. Have a great summer maybe ~~see~~ I'll see you in that hug

Lisa -
You're a very pretty girl, to say the least, and a smart one at that. I enjoyed being able to be in your history class.
I hope I get to see a bit more of you next year. Have a nice summer! And I hope to see you sometime soon.

Keep in touch:

WORLD HISTORY 1-2-3

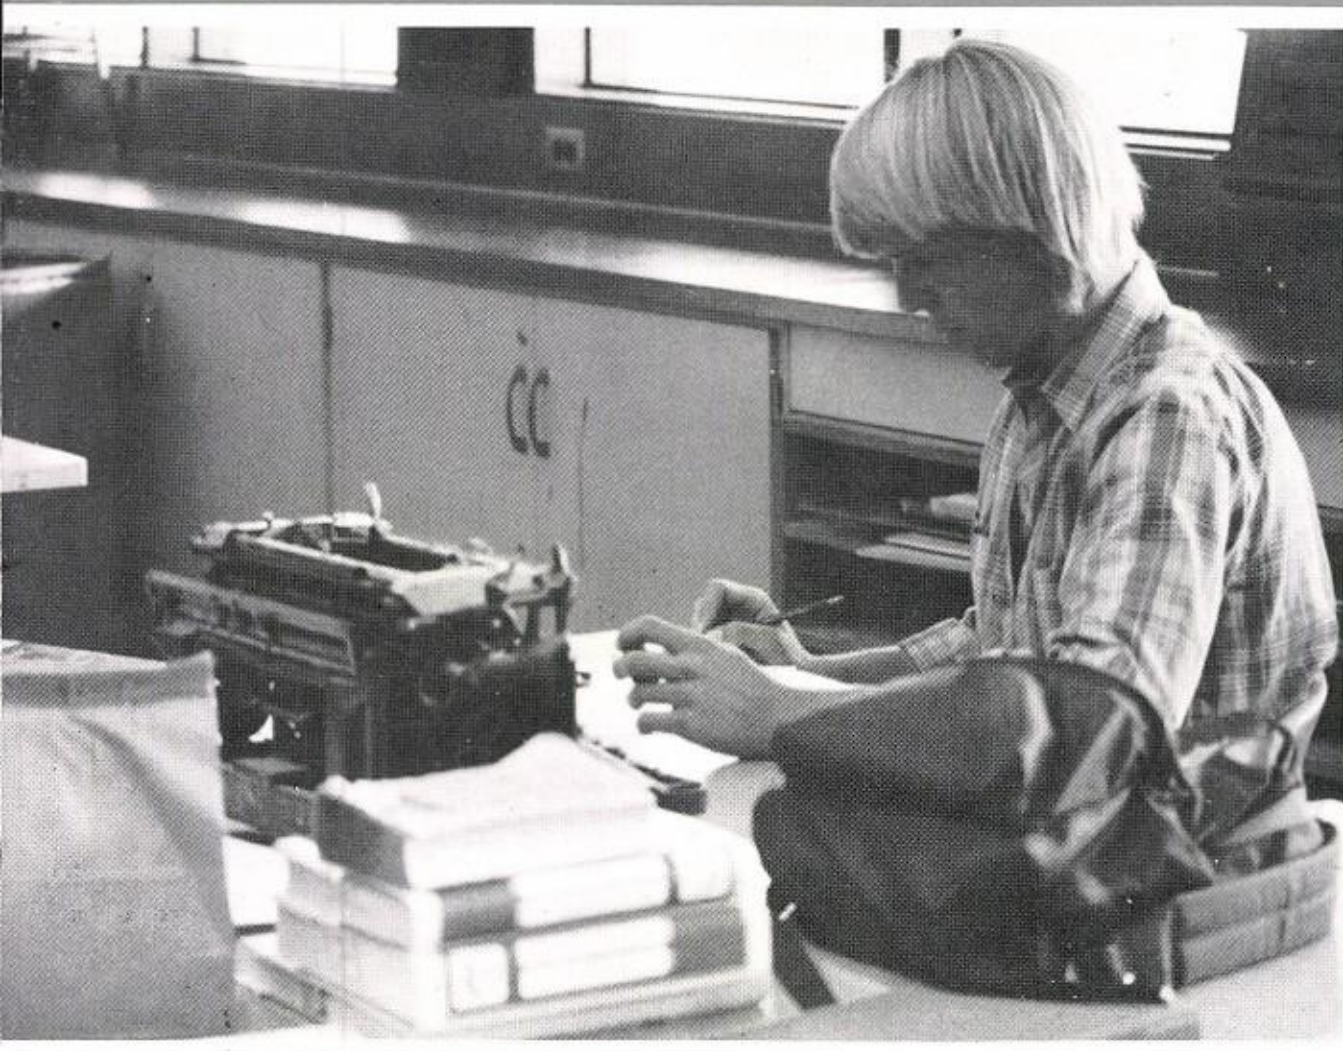

U.S. HISTORY ——— 1-2-3

U.S. GOVT. ——— ~~1-2-3~~

Never before has three months passed so quickly! Why it was just yesterday when we threw away old binders, unplugged alarm clocks, and didn't look at our calendars. But now it's time to begin a new lifestyle (that all too familiar lifestyle) of books, lessons, teachers, and Lynbrook. Somehow, somewhere, buried deep in our minds we knew that this was going to be better; better because we knew we were starting something new.

We moan and groan when the doomsday letter arrives, saying that September is just around the corner (mill registration??? Oh no! Phone calls instead of notes? How does one forge a voice, anyway?) but there is also excitement in the air. New clothes and sleepless nights are spent wondering . . . will I fit in? The night before (the only night you will ever already know exactly what you are wearing tomorrow), is the worst and the alarm clock, still dusty, is set for six a.m.

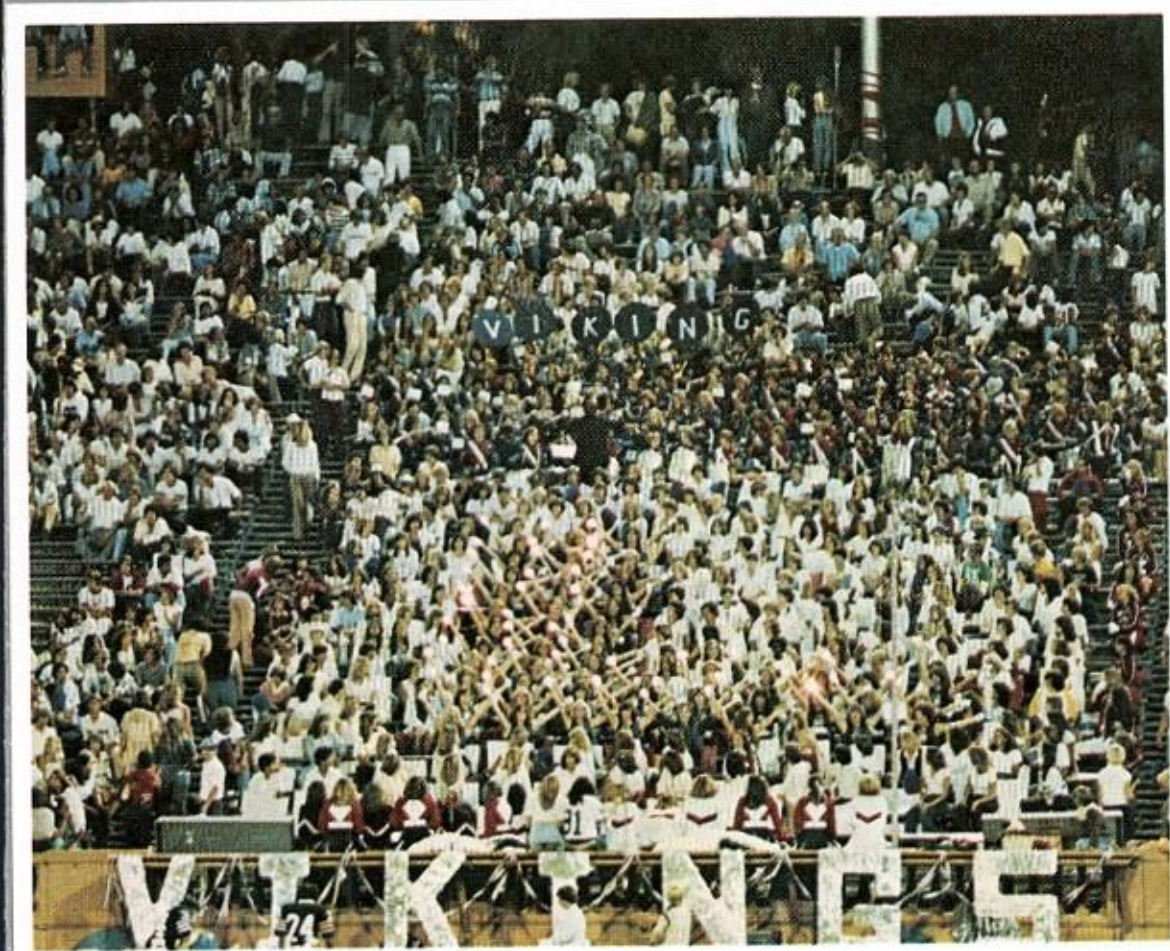

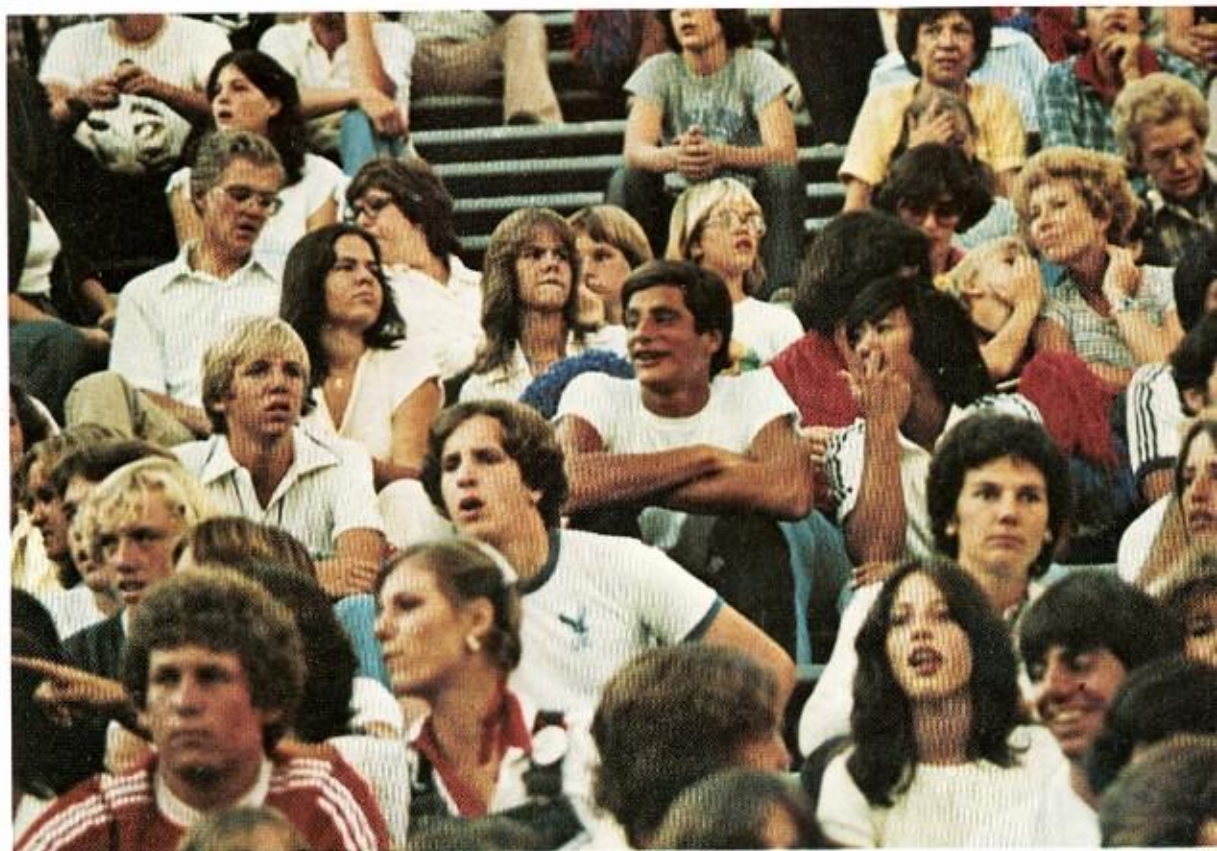

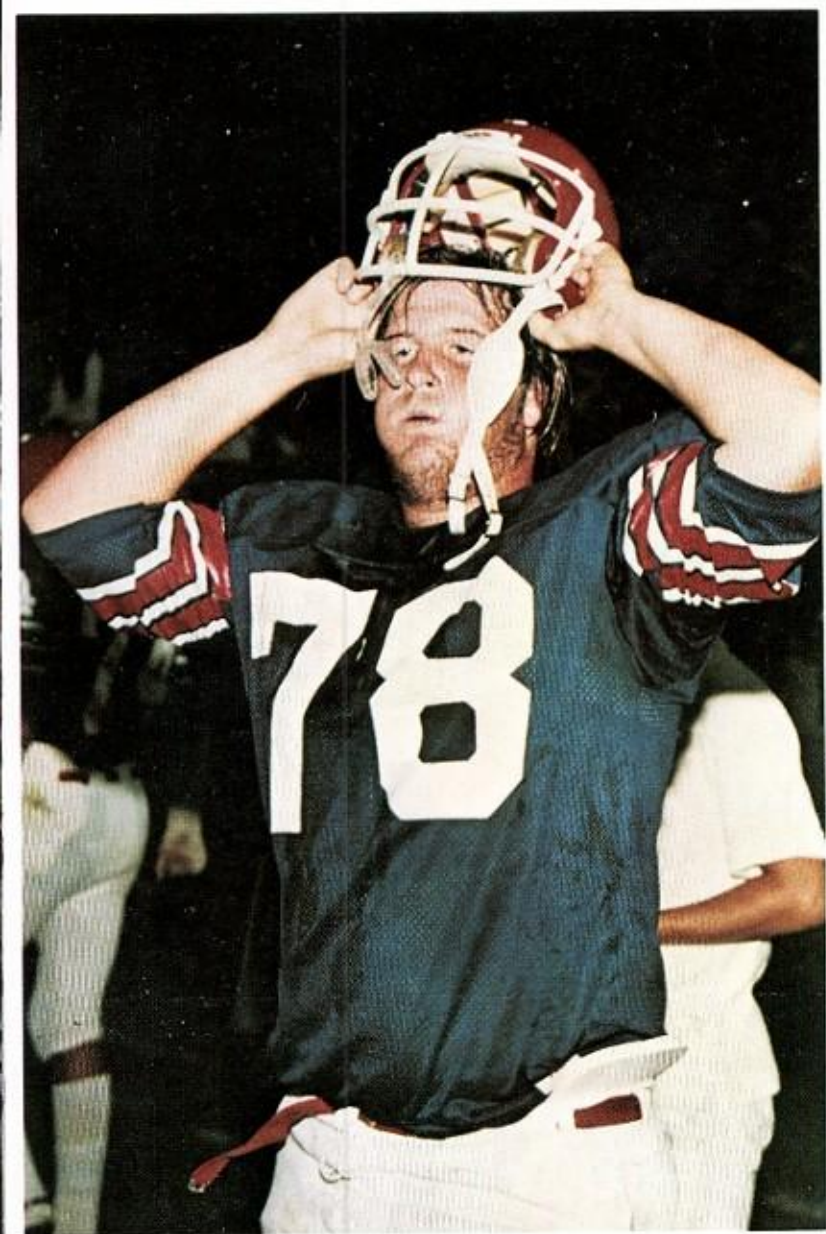

Then that day we've been waiting for has arrived. Freshmen, wearing brand new winter clothes in 90 degree weather, are wandering helplessly around with maps wondering if it's an A day or a B day, and the Sophomores act as the guardians because they've just been through a whole year of degrading comments and are out for revenge, and the Juniors are cool because they're veterans who have mastered the system, and they're bigger than just about everyone. . . except for the one and only God-like and majestic Seniors, who aren't even at school because they truly believe in tradition (who can get away with the most absences, or most realistically, who can forge the best.) This first day marks the beginning of a new life that will become full of new friends and experiences as we become a part of Lynbrook. It's always the same school, but we can tell it will be different. Instead of taking ten minutes to get lunch, it now takes thirty; and our "new" lockers seem to be in the same place as last year, except that now they won't even open. One lunch is hard to get used to, but the more the merrier, right? But the change is welcome because it enables us to look into this place where we spend half our day (and sometimes all of our day) and actually be a part of the school. Some of us shoot baskets, some of us blow horns, and some of us study hard, but all of us go to school . . . together . . . and all of us are individuals that make Lynbrook what it is. The excitement of the first days soon wears away, and the routine of good old school starts to take on a definite shape. Seeing everyone happy and being with friends is great, but there is always something happening that can change our feelings and make us unique . . . we are set apart from everyone else, because nothing is stronger and more special than the individual. We are a part of this school, and we participate in things together, but at the same time we are separate, alone, and apart from these group activities as we strive to set our very own personal mark in the four short years we are in high school. At times it seems that we are the only runners in the race, but the feeling of being in first place is just so great. The spectators on the sidelines are cheering you on and encouraging you to never give up, and these people are a big part of your life. School isn't only learning in the classroom; it's also learning all about people and how important they are to you . . . (too bad we can't have more outside learning classes!) . . . besides, what would you ever do if you had no one to talk to at brunch? Everyone has their own little corner (this bench reserved for our group only! Violators will be prosecuted!) Where they feel protection and security among the mere 2,500 students. Sometimes you think that if someone doesn't fit in, it's you (why is everyone staring at me that way?) but everyone was in the same place at one time or another. You find a niche and make it your very own

"clique." Soon you feel like you really belong to Lynbrook, and you are a part of this place. The good times, as well as the bad, will always be with us. What we have learned will never separate itself from our memories, and our memories will never separate from ourselves. Our friends and experiences, no matter how trivial or important, have guided us into new ways of life; a life full of joy and happiness (excluding finals week) and a life full of hopes and dreams for tomorrow. Now is the year that we are making sure that we get what we want so that we can enjoy every minute of the time we spend at Lynbrook High School.

Tuesday morning at 7:15 was not exactly anyone's idea of the ideal meeting time, but it was all a part of being in A.S.B. Sleepy, yet determined, the executive council met every week to plan ways to serve the students in the best possible way. Better dances, lunch time activities, and new student lunches were just some of the goals accomplished by the fall A.S.B. The teachers finally felt appreciated by all students during secret pal week, thanks to hard work and dedication by our friends in student government.

Marching forth this year, with many surprises, was the LYNBROOK MARCHING BAND!!!!!! Halftime shows, at football games, were finally entertaining when the band, totaling 4 of our finest musicians, marched around the field proving that it is possible to march and play at the same time. We were proud to say, "Hey! That's our band!" We loved it when the crowd stood up and murmured, "Ooh's and Ahh's," at the sparkling new uniforms and sharp formations. The band, under the supervision of the renowned Stephen Stroud, made outstanding progress, especially when Greg Lamy was chosen to be a member of the MacDonald's All State Marching Band. This honor was shared by all. The band could easily describe this year in one word . . . success.

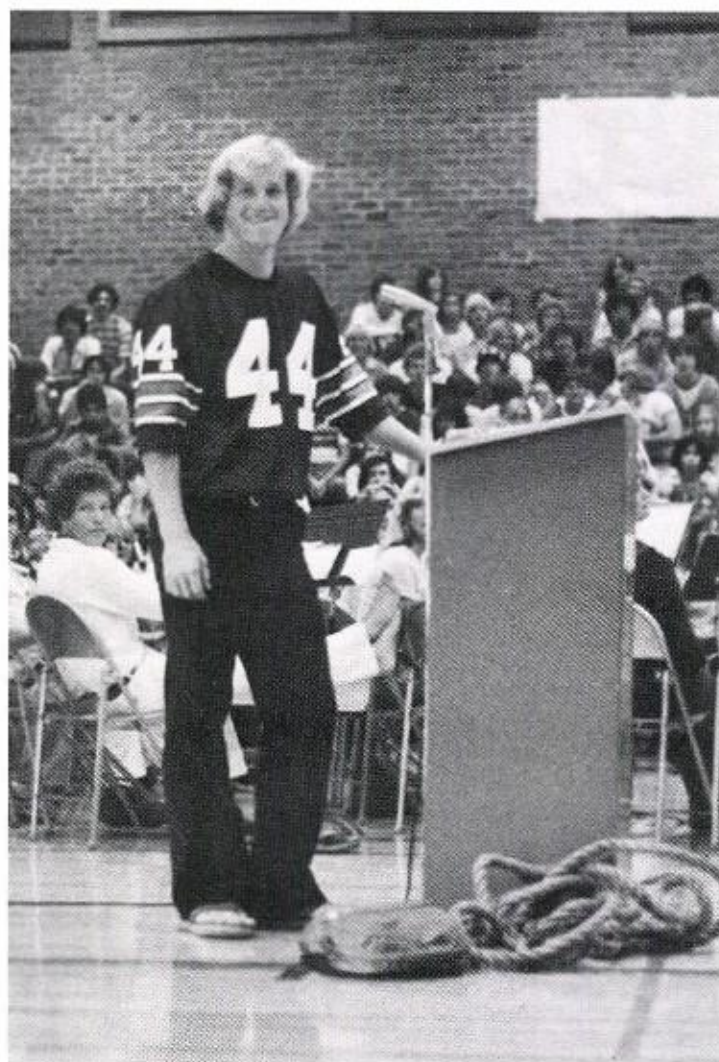

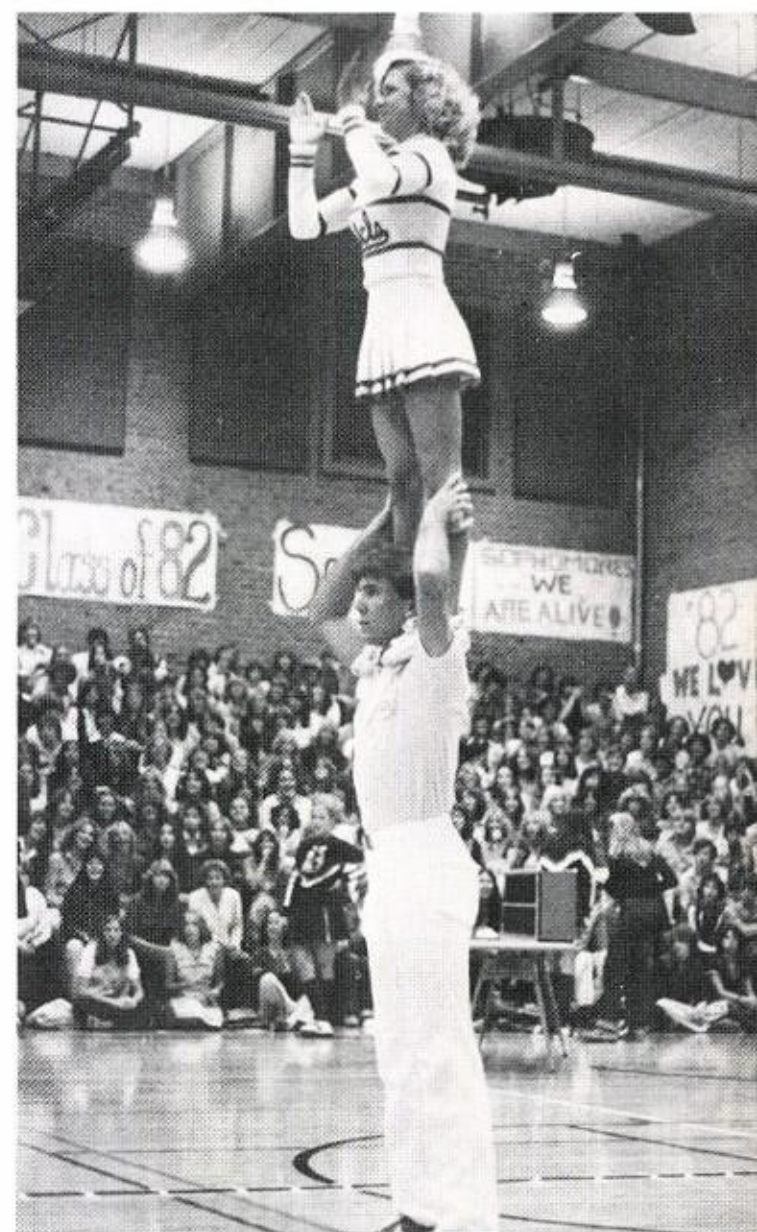

"Rah! Rah! Go Vikes, Go!" The RALLIES this year kept us cheering and rooting to bring all that Lynbrook spirit into one big yell. No wonder the gym was so noisy, with four very spirited classes getting together to show the Viking Pride. There was always class competition, which did get a little out of hand at times, but who's going to knock class pride? We needed to get out all of our aggressions, and what better way was there than screaming at the top of our lungs? Of course, the seniors always won, but they deserved a break! (You're only a senior once.) The underclass did almost as well, and proved to be great competition. There were tug-of-wars, balloon races, and lots of other games to boost the Viking fans. The UCLA band and spirit leaders paid us their biennial visit, and, as usual, the cheerleaders received their traditional ratings. The rallies were always something to look forward to (especially if you went). It was Friday and we could once again show our spirit and school pride.

The Lynbrook Valkyries were definitely "the best and getting better."

Another year of being National Champions was great, but so were all the experiences that will never be forgotten.

Raising money proved exciting (What? Another paper drive?), and so did cheering on the freeway, singing Camelot in the rain, and running down

Stevens Creek looking for the parade that we were supposed to be in. It is sad to say good-bye to all the seniors, but, to tell the truth, we've had enough of your "sophomore antics!" Mrs. Seltz, you're a trusted and loved leader, but we can't perform in the rain for Homecoming; we'll catch pneumonia! Yet, we shall always remember: "Dependent am I."

Top row: C. Moll, C. Evans, C. Dunn, K. Cooke, K. Craig. 2nd row: J. Silverstein, M. McBirney, Ellis, K. Wedel, V. Fitch, G. Cooper. 3rd row: S. Maddox, K. Zurcher, P. Parker, K. With the first big school events came the traditional JAMBOREE where all the area football teams got to show off new talent and baffling plays. Although we knew the Viking team wasn't actually rated among the finer teams in our league, we still went with spirit in our hearts and white shirts on our backs (as we were so often reminded to wear) to watch the Vikes run over Fremont and Homestead. With every point our team made, everyone screamed just a little louder, and jumped a little higher. The card section looked great, or so we were told, thanks to hard, hot work by everyone, especially Pam and Brenda. The Viking Band wearing terrific new uniforms surprised us ("Is that our band?"). Of course, we deserved the spirit bell ten times more than Fremont, but can we help it if the judges are deaf? It sure was a fun evening, and the team never looked better- and second place never felt better . . . especially when we Lynbrook fans showed some of the best spirit ever shown at good old Spartan Stadium.

The time that every student looks forward to at Lynbrook is definitely SPRIT WEEK, when everyone has the chance to act and dress to their biggest desires. (You name it, we saw it!) Monday was 60's day, and the freshmen threw crepe paper for the first time. Nerd Day was great, and the sophomores showed real spirit in the decorations. Masquerade Day was next, with some stylish junior decorations covering the rally court. The seniors topped it off with a dance in formal wear, a lavish banquet table, and colorful decorations. The traditional spirit award was given to the seniors for their hard work in the parking lot the night before (thank you, Kalon!) and the participation in the early morning. All in all, spirit week was as exciting as ever, and showed that in every Lynbrook student there lies a little something special called spirit.

Not even a slight downpour could dampen our annual HOMECOMING celebration at the Cupertino field, where our football team met Monta Vista for an exciting game. The halftime show was good, even though the rain stopped the Valkyries and marching band from performing. A new type of celebration was started with the election of Lynbrook's first Homecoming King. The Queen's court looked fabulous as the princesses circled the field in shiny Corvettes. They stood proudly outside of the class of 1980's castle that was their something special. Old seniors returned to stroll down memory lane, and it was nice seeing past acquaintances once again. The game didn't end in a Lynbrook victory, yet the Homecoming celebration, with the brilliant fireworks, and steady drizzle, was something to remember.

Grass huts, wild animals, and voodoo magic took over the Lynbrook Cove and Gym as the girls treated their guys to the annual Sadie Hawkins. "Sadie Goes Jungle" was the theme which brought the wildest beasts and the restless natives to dance to the beat of Atlantis. Elephants, gorillas, lions, leopards, and ferocious jungle people were all wed voodoo style by the savage witch doctors, Wilson and Rowland. The male irresistibles, seniors Rob Andris and Rob Reid, junior Jeff Tingley, sophomore Matt Stepovich, and Archie Rodich freshman, along with all the other guys climbed the vine with their jungle mates and had a swinging time with their gals at the 1979 Sadie Hawkins.

Pajama Game

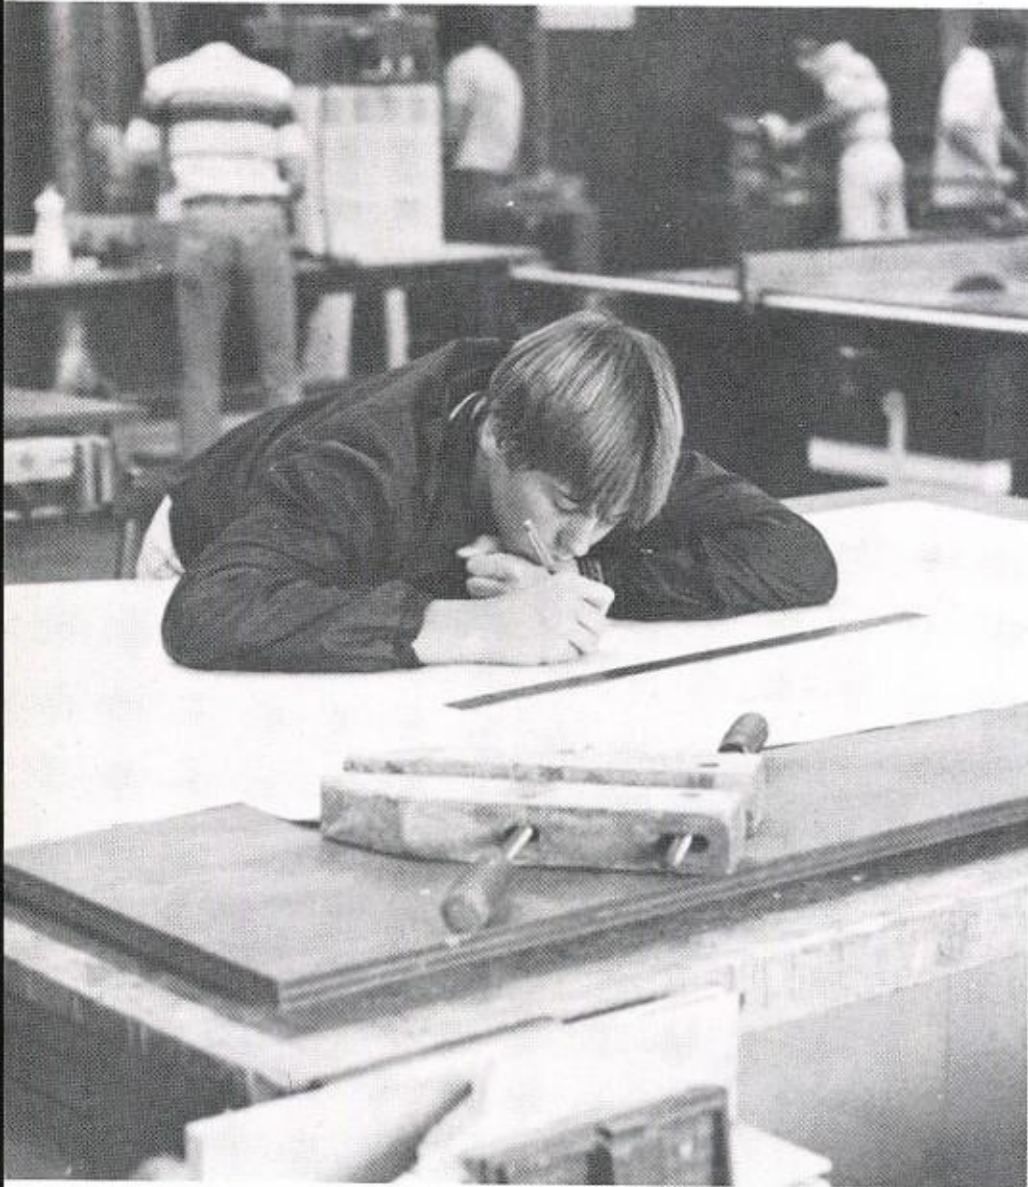

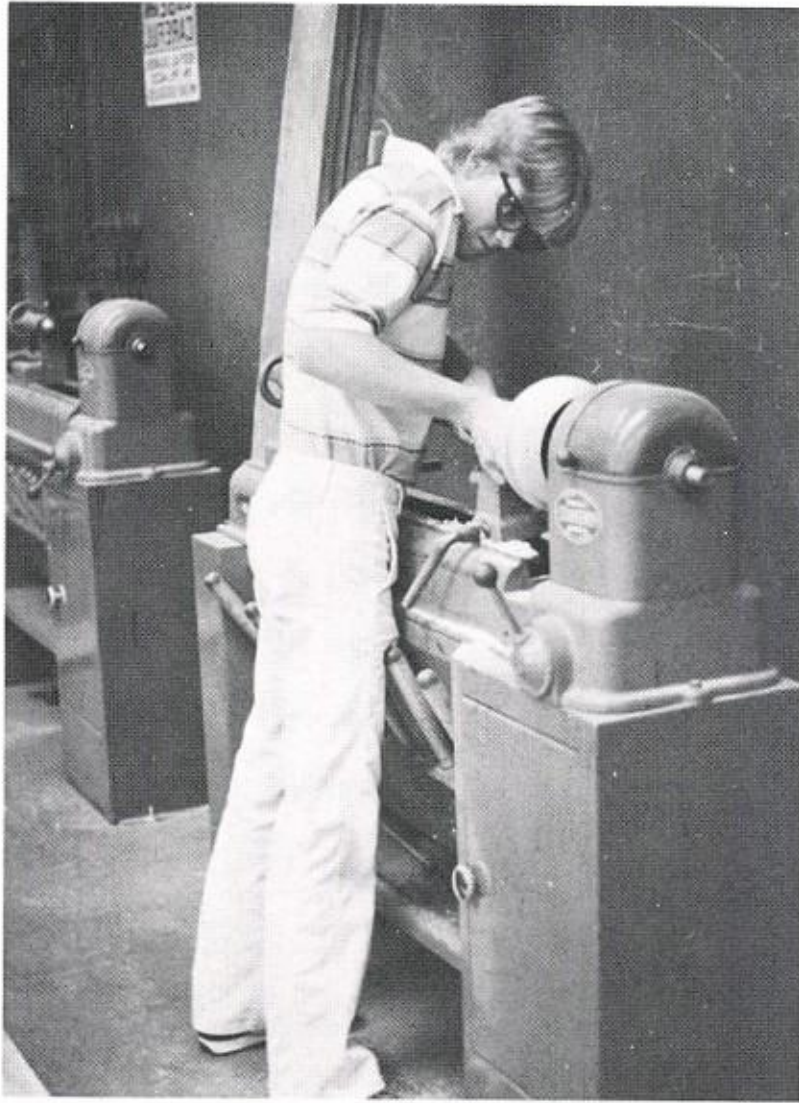

We never thought we would see the day when pajamas would be the style at Lynbrook, but this year's FALL MUSICAL did it! "The Pajama Game" was a humorous musical that was one of the most entertaining shows ever. What many didn't realize, however, was the numerous hours of work and preparation that went into the show to make it such a hit.

The actors, actresses, and stagehands began as early as the second week of school and went all the way to November 21st in first gear, rehearsing two to three hours each day. Saturday rehearsals were not the most enjoyable, but the Incredible Hulk's good humor kept us alive. ("take your pants off!") Gavin and Dan, you definitely sounded like the Beatles, even if Dan had problems hitting those high notes. Who could forget "Steam Heat", especially the girls who had to wear those awful costumes? Aside from that, it was another great Lynbrook theatrical production.

The JUNIOR VARSITY Football Team, along with the FROSH Team, was loaded with new players this year. How many times did the J.V. team come close to taking the game, (but just missed it) was hard to count. The spirit was there, though, and the J.V.'s never went to a game without some good support. It wasn't hard to see the determination and hard work put in by the players. The Frosh Team, or, according to the coach, the, SQUIRRELS, quickly learned how a typical practice was run. The monotony was broken when the Frosh polished off their last two opponents, this made up earlier losses. Next year it is felt, our teams will go nowhere but up.

Even with Fred Flintstone and Barney Rubble coaching, the Lynbrook VARSITY FOOTBALL team was far from comical! There were many good times with Steve Roberts' demonstrations on the art of disco, good old Frols, and funny skits in the auditorium, but the team also had its serious moments. Although the stats weren't ideal, the team was full of more spirit and togetherness than any other previous team. There were only five returning players, but the young team was able to learn something much more valuable than winning. (Still, we were sure glad we beat Prospect and Sunnyvale!) With as much hard work, spirit, and determination the guys showed this year, we can hope that next year we'll be saying "watch out, Saratoga ..."

"Lynbrook Hockey, hats off to thee!" The LYNBROOK FIELD HOCKEY TEAMS had reason to sing this year. The Varsity team took the D.A.L. championship, showing once and for all that Monta Vista was putty in our hands (maybe not that easy, but we pulled through, right Stobe?).

The team was the most skillful and speediest ever, and their work together brought them to C.C.S. The JV's also took first place in D.A.L., led by Linda, the one with the "beer belly," who did a great job handling the team and actually teaching them how to play hockey.

There will always be a place in our hearts for Jasper the Ball (who was joined by MV, SHS, and H balls), and we'll never forget warm-ups (did you do your sit-ups?), scrimmages, and those neat sprints that we always looked forward to. Really, Stober.

Don't worry, if we drop dead after practice; it's just because we're a little tired! With 4-B, Pavy, Steph, Ho-Ho, Glow-Brows, Peppy le Pu, Campbell Soup, Fajetti, Lineda, Swanny, and all the rest, the Varsity team always tried to help their pals on the JV team, and wish them all the luck next year with our arch enemy, Monta Vista. Rah! Hockey!

Dominating the D.A.L. once again was the Lynbrook WATER POLO team. The team had a slow start with practice not beginning until two weeks after everyone else, yet this could not stop the Vikings. Jeff Roy, the team's new coach, found a very talented bunch of players on his hands, and helped them work their way into C.C.S. The morning workouts were not the most memorable experiences, but the pay off was worth it. Led by captain Chris Cavanaugh, and supported by the excellent skills of Steve Duffy, Kevin Kirmse, and the rest of the players, the team finished high in league standings. Dave Okawa was the hero more than once, and (Slow Man) Dan broke his nose early in the season. The best part of being on the team had to be sharing the pool with girl's swimming (there were no complaints), and going to Golden Mushroom was great. Lynbrook has always had a strong polo team, and this year's team upheld the tradition of being among the best in the Central Coast Section.

It's six A.M., and the sun is still hiding behind the night. It is dark and gloomy at the Lynbrook pool, but the girls swimming team is still out there, working out to be the best team, ever. This scene was not uncommon during this year's swimming season. The workouts weren't that bad, but walking into the fence because of the absence of light was. The fun began after workouts, in the lockerroom setting off the smoke detectors, with the steam of our hot showers.

Our meets always promised to be exciting, and they were. The one we will always remember was the Saratoga meet, where, once again, that LYNBROOK'S GIRLS SWIMMING is number one. The most exciting event we had was the brownie race! Juju Baby knows how to eat brownies and swim at the same time! (Aren't those for after the meet, girls?)

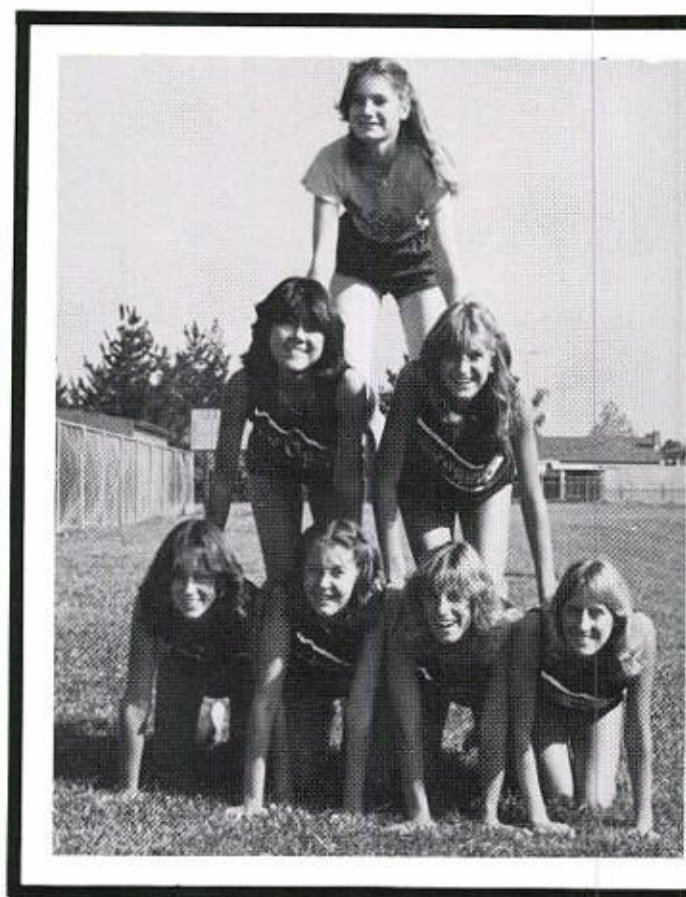

The Golden Mushroom knows us well, as do the water polo players. But we are better known as the one and only . . . Aquajocks. And we will never forget that . . . "Lynbrook's bodies are the best!"

Run, run, run; do they ever stop? This year's Cross Country team was always running for their fearless leader "Vern." His intense workouts taught the runners many things, including how to run the wrong way at a meet, (Colvin and Deagen, you've done it again) and how to stay unright without knocking down other runners in a race (Conrardy was a prime example). Only at the end of the season did the scenic route around the green field become a little drill. Even the prospect of gossiping with "Swivel" failed to break the monotony. Though you'd never believe it, the team found out that many things can be accomplished while running, especially having a good time.

Serve, hit, volley, and score was the TENNIS TEAM motto. Mrs. Seltz, as the Varsity coach, trained the team well and led them to a second place in D.A.L. Mrs. Seltz was a great coach, and the team proved their loyalty, especially at the tough M.V. match. Miss Maher, the J.V. coach, helped her team by encouraging spirit with her famous pep talks and unforgettable slogans. No one ever ran their two miles each day, but the season ended well, with several girls placing in C.C.S. showing that tennis is #1.

Ending the season with another successful record, the Volleyball teams showed what real team work and determination can do. The Varsity team, although very young, came through with a proud second place in D.A.L., led by Coach Rowland. The J.V. team, known for their outstanding comebacks, tied for first in D.A.L., and the C's took the championship.

The games were always exciting, especially when we got stuck with referees who could be talked out of decisions (right Bev?). We could never go through one day without hearing "Hey dudes," thanks to Kieler, and Julie C's great imitations were always amusing. We weren't being possessive when shouting, "I got it!" or "Mine!"; it's just part of the game! Zamagni's beautiful underwear is also something we'll never forget, along with our pornographic cheers! All in all, we had a great season that we could be nothing but proud of!

Next to the Dee team, The CEE'S BASKETBALL team was known as "the radicals," the team was big, but still managed to personalize the birthday of every team member in their own special way. Edson and his Kung-Fu seemed to entertain the guys, as did the Disco dances every Wednesday, and Rock's motorcycle helmet dance. Animal Drill and J.R.'s free throw game also made practice a little more interesting. The classic of the year had to be Greg Pele's magnificent rebound and shot for the wrong team, scoring for Cupertino. (It's okay Greg, we understand!) Although the Cee's didn't have one of their better seasons game wise, they still were a strong team that was always up to no good.

With such great players as co-MVP's Bob Friedrich and Ron Freeman, along with the exceptional skill of the rest of the team, how could the DEE BASKETBALL team go wrong? This year, the undefeated record was preserved, with a total of 42 accumulated wins in the past four years. It wasn't always work, however, especially at practices. With Brucie as coach, the team took the Indian drill a little bit too seriously and found themselves pretending to be Indians. (What else do you guys do at practice?) The season went fast, but it was great showing Lynbrook that we are the best when it comes to basketball!

A PART OF

Lisea - You cutie you. You have to tell me what the problem is. Are you mad at me or what? Maybe it's my imagination but it seems like you've been mad at me. I hope not. You're a real sweetheart, and that's not a bunch of B.S. to fill space, you really are.

Maybe we could hit the beach this summer, or I'll for sure look forward to seeing you at my party in July. Take care of yourself o.k?

Several clubs from Lynbrook showed their Christmas spirit by helping in the annual East Side Christmas program. Spanish Club, the traditional sponsors, received aid from the NHS and Key Clubs, to make it an even bigger success. This year, the Club gave their gifts to the senior citizens at the East Side Catholic Services Center. A festive banquet dinner was served while the Lynbrook Band played holiday carols. This occasion even made the news with a special newscast on Ch. 11. Mrs. Campbell made the whole event possible, and the senior citizens were thankful to the Spanish Club for their kindness and good will.

The joy of music was spread about by the Lynbrook music department as they presented a Christmas Concert. The December 13 performance packed the theater, leaving several people standing, to listen to the "Beginning," Girls, Jazz and Concert Choir sing a beautiful selection of songs. The choral arrangements were made by Mrs. Vidt, while Mr. Stroud directed the orchestra. The long hours of practice showed, for this year's concert was one that would long be remembered.

A "Crystal Mist" settled over couples at the annual Christmas Ball, which was romantically set in the grand ballroom of the Holiday Inn High Rise. "Hush" provided a fine selection of music, while the ballroom had plenty of dancers formally dressed in handsome tuxes and dazzling evening gowns. Although the dance didn't start until nine o'clock, the fun began long before with pictures at home, ("C'mon Dad, not another picture!") fancy dinners, and a toast or two for a happy holiday season. Twelve o'clock came all too soon, but the fond memories of the beautiful ballroom with the sparkling crystal ball and musical notes from "Hush" would last forever. Once again, the Christmas Ball was one of the fanciest and most fun-filled evenings of the year.

It's the hardworking, dedicated Epic Staff that keeps the Lynbrook A.S.B. well informed on campus happenings. Our very own school newspaper comes out twelve times a year, but that doesn't mean free time for the staff. "Big G" is the beloved advisor to the journalists who spent hours fact-hunting, writing, typesetting, and pasting under pressure from the dreaded deadlines. There were some lighter moments, however, especially raising money by throwing pies, eating pizza at Glen's house, and going out to dinner together. The staff was finally awarded the new composer after five years of pleadings and debates, but it was worth it! Always working as a group, our Epic staff put forth their best efforts to create the most interesting newspapers ever read. Besides, what better way is their to end a Friday?

We are a family, always cranking out ideas, hours of work, and there were trials and tribulations (Picture or foil? What's a pica? also became much closer (Miniature golf, hot tubs, Tab, birthday cakes, contains a big part (ha-ha) of ourselves, and reflects all the pains,

What are proof sheets, croppers, quads, logos, and where's the boo boo goo?), but we Togo's, M & M sales, concession stands, and burnt marshmallows). Our work of art caring, work, brain-storms, and dedication that passed from us to the 1980 Valhalla.

A unique, exciting, and valuable learning program offered to interested Lynbrook students is CEBAS, where a semester is spent away from campus learning various skills and interesting information. The lucky students who participate in CEBAS find themselves faced with many tasks, including turning a barren piece of land into a healthy productive garden on their own. They also work with others, learning valuable facts on financial management, use of resources, and the urban environment.

Backpacking is also a fantastic experience which would never be forgotten, along with the field trips and the rescue mission. It seemed that the semester flew by so quickly, yet the knowledge would stay forever.

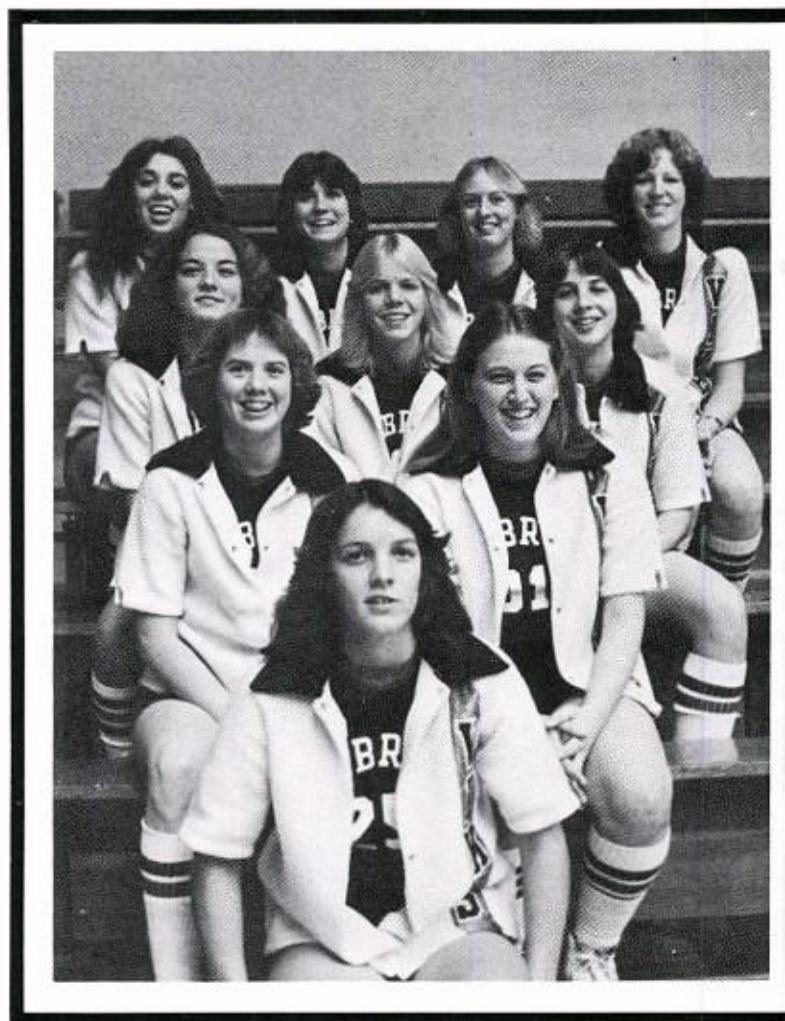

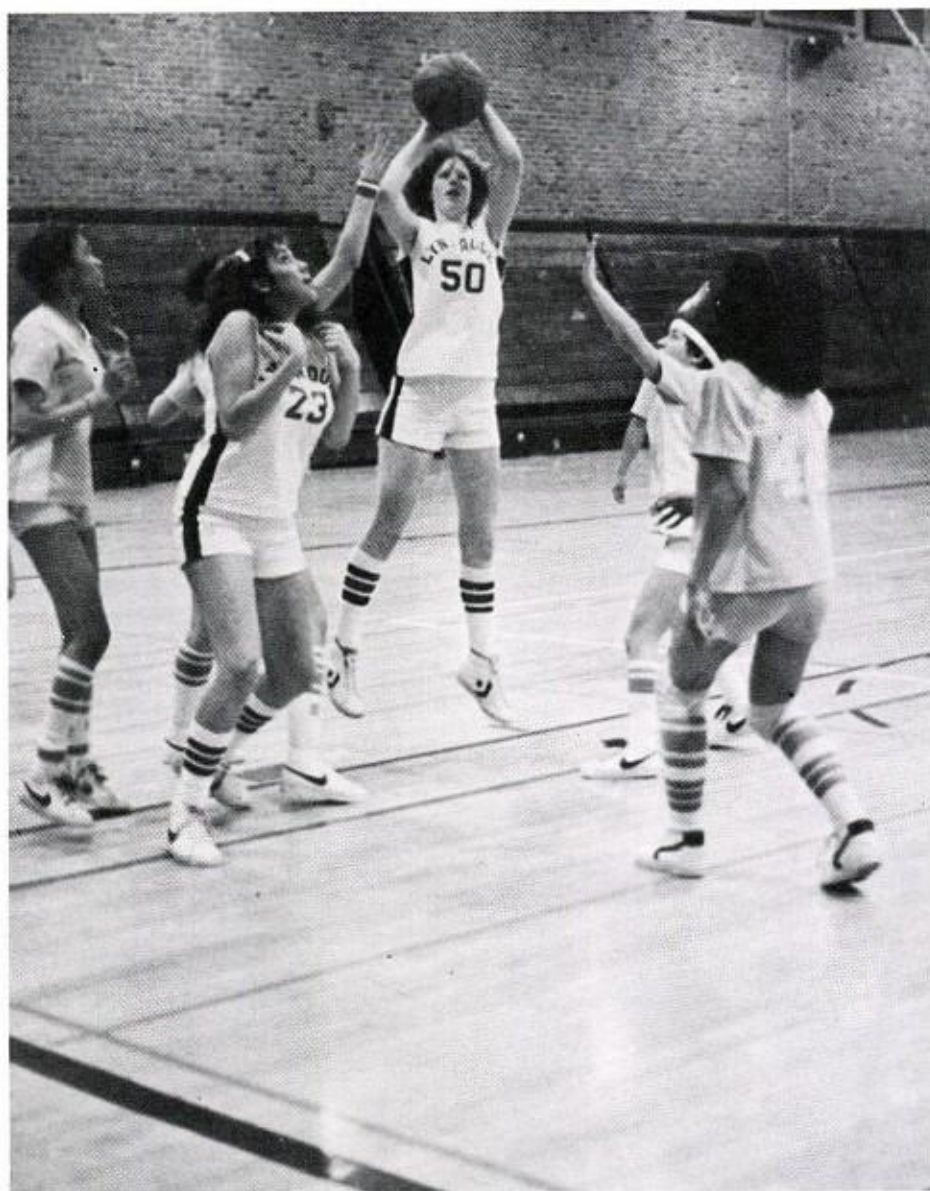

Dribble, pass, shoot, and score was the VARSITY GIRLS' BASKETBALL successful team strategy. Coached by Linda Nichols, the skilled players completed a proud season. The team had a few setbacks (when will somebody not be sick?), yet nothing could stop Neil from learning how to block, Martha from improving her butterfingers, and Cooke from finally learning how to jump!! The girls always had some laughs together, either with Nichols, or checking out the flowered undies on game days.

With first place never leaving their minds, the team knew they had played their best when the season was over.

The Viking GIRLS' BASKETBALL teams proved their stuff this year with a triumphant season. The J.V. team had only three returning players, who helped the new players to make the team strong. Rep (don't you dare step on her shoes) was the star of the team, but Pavy, Lisa, and Shannon were also in the spotlight. Pavy's skill was inverdent when she broke her leg walking across her lawn, still the team managed with the other players. Jenny Lynn was the J.V. coach, while Sandy Stober guided the young C's to a fine season. At first they mixed up basketball with football, but Ding Bat, Short Stuff, Swisher, and all the girls soon caught the Lynbrook style of winning and had a fine season.

First row: Coach Talbot, S. Milstead, P. Gara, D. Wolf, E. Weisburg, R. Decker, Coach Brum, Second Row: T. Korhummel, J. Plecq, D. Talbot, J. Kalinin, K. Yam-anaka, M. Pope, T. Wheeler, B. Yang, A. Blake, M. Sakoi, A. Linney.

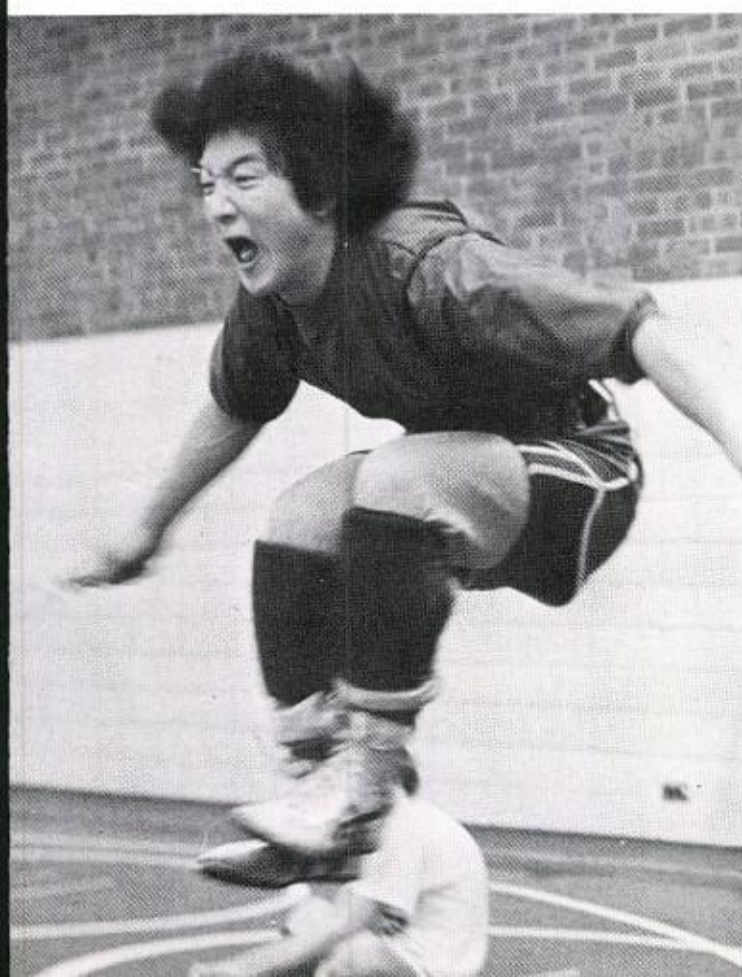

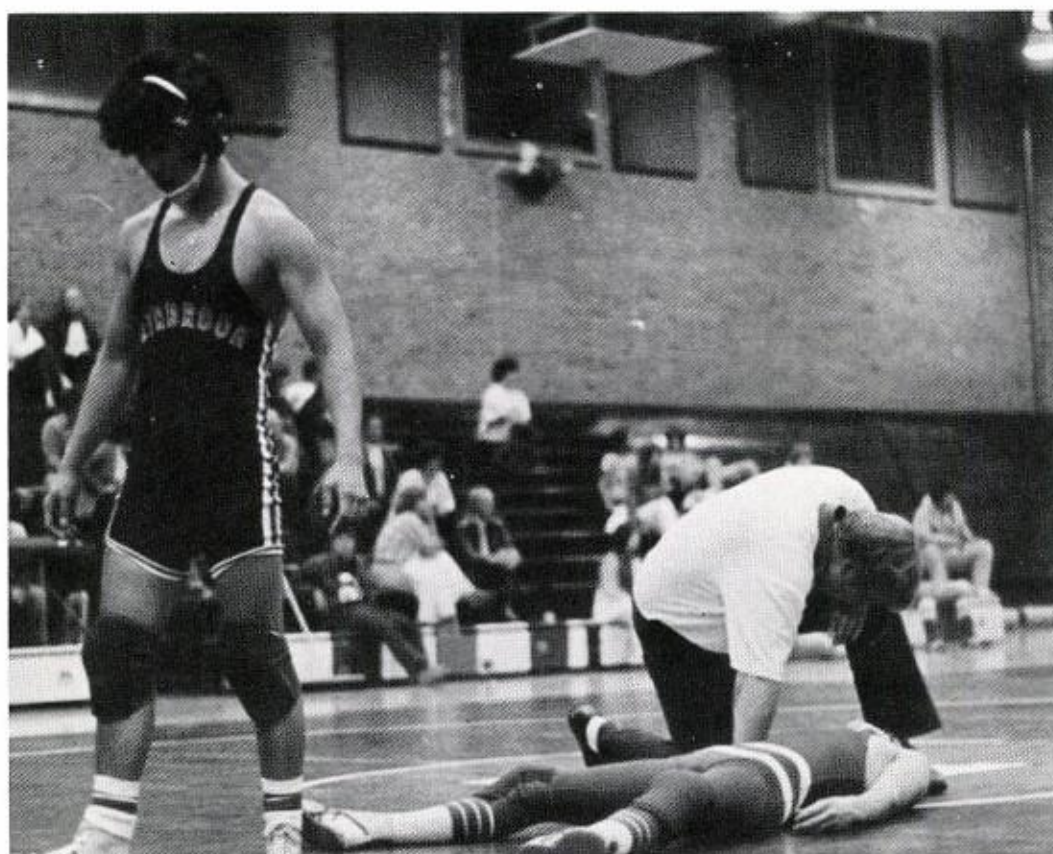

Whether it was working out on a sweaty mat, running laps in two pairs of sweats, losing a close match, or pinning an opponent, the Lynbrook Wrestling teams did it all together. Teamwork was the J.V. and Varsity motto, and both groups of rough and tough wrestlers worked together to achieve a proud league standing. No one could ever forget the famous diet called "starvation" which could quickly shed five pounds in a few short hours. There never failed to be a nice supply of cookies in hand after weigh-in, which would soon be followed by an extra large pizza. (M-M-M!) Losing weight wasn't the only hard part about being a wrestler, as many found out after a famous Coach Talbot workout. Yet the results were plain to see when the J.V. and Varsity teams dominated every match, and showed everyone that with a great coach like Talbot, and an overabundance of skill and determination, nothing could happen but success.

The brand new Frosh Basketball team played well this season, and chalked it up for experience as they met the league contenders for the first time. Bruce Meisenbach, the team's coach, developed a large amount of potential and personality. Orca, Gunner, Mosquito, and H.L. helped the team become even more unique, as did Peterson's interesting footwear of Adidas on one foot and Nike on the other. (He probably has a pair just like it at home.) Even opposing teams knew Lynbrook should win as Sunnyvale scored two points for the Vikes shooting at the wrong basket! All in all, the team showed promising talent, and will certainly make next year's Viking team a tough one.

Always on top of things was the J.V. Basketball team, which made enough baskets to keep them in the running for first place. Coach Gerry Freitas, who made the team quick, competitive, and aggressive, will long be remembered for his dedication. He showed most of his loyalty to the team against Bellarmine, where he - let us say - had a few small outbursts. The team's major goal was to slaughter Monta Vista, a tough Viking rival. Besides the games, the Vikes had some memorable practices too. Everyone jumped for joy when the coach yelled, "Mass Sliding Drill, Stance!!" The practices were tough but they knew it was the only way to reach the top. Spider, Magic, and Tranker were just some of the players who made this J.V. team one of the best.

Top to bottom: Coach Holtorf, R. Moriarity, M. Tresemer, B. Mozzocco, C. Rudiger, S. Ficovich, D. Handley, D. Whipple, M. Gordon, D. Duplantier, J. Gibbs, K. Holdbrook, B. Bloyd, T. Jonasson, Missing K. Hicks.

Starting and ending the season with a strong team this year was Varsity Basketball. For the first time in a long while, the Vikings came within two baskets of defeating Saratoga, which has one of the toughest teams in the league, along with Fremont. The spirit was always a mile high and so were the guys, with the Bacardi Kid, the Flyin' Hawaiian, and Jumpin' Jack always pushing forward. The defense was solid as a rock, thanks to Kalon, Bill, and Donny always being on the move. Rich and Carl, as the team leaders, were helpful in bringing the team together to always strive for the best-which is what they got. Although ten of the first twelve games were played away, the players were followed everywhere by our Viking Pride, and always played a dazzling game. (We'll forget about Sunnyvale!) The team's favorite place to show their stuff was in our very own gym, where the crowd's support was enough to drive them on to victory. Jack Holtorf, the team's coach, did an excellent job in creating one of the finest teams in Lynbrook history.

New things happened to the Girls' Soccer teams this year, including brand new talent, strategy, and uniforms.

Combined with the experienced returning players, Coaches Leonard, Fox, and Anderson ended up with "dynamite" teams full of power and skill. The Varsity and J.V. teams held a twelve hour marathon to earn money for new uniforms, and practiced at all hours of the day including cold, wet, dark mornings just to show their dedication. It always amused the teams when Coach Anderson called the cleats "boots" and the field a "pitch" before every practice. The final result of this hard work was a fine season that all were proud of.

Top row: T. Dahl, Coach Leonard, M. Rathmann. Middle: J. Rathmann, L. Yrastorza, D. Thomas, L. Popenhagen. Bottom: B. Kieler, I. Linder, K. Kieler, S. Friedrich, J. Triplett, S. Hall.

Top row: J. Ersten, K. Gomes, L. Donovan, K. Wakefield, C. Alloggiamento, C. Gomes, K. Rohner, H. Frederick, M. Levitte. Bottom: A. Buckstad, T. Bangen, J. Rheingrover, L. Hardwick, R. Fernandes, J. Jeffries, C. Perry.

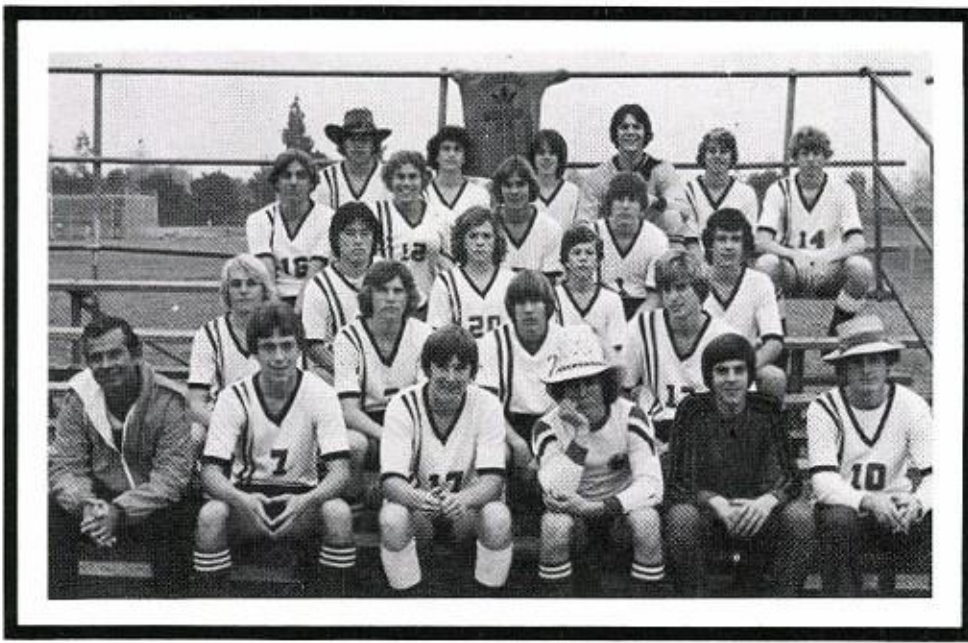

The Varsity Soccer team kicked off their season in the right direction, and kept the ball rolling uphill. The mighty Vikings placed second in the Blackford Tourny by scoring a total of seven goals. The team was loaded with fast, tireless guys who always seemed to work perfectly together. With a little forward line strength from Gordon and Jock, and some quick maneuvers by Shoby, Rocket, and Coit, the soccer team was a tough one to beat. The defense was a dauntless one led by a bird, a white rhino, and an Aunt Jemima. Thanks to some good support, long practices, (War paint and garbage can destruction to relieve the monotony of drill after drill after drill . . .) and a dedicated group of eager soccer players, Lynbrook once again proved to be a number one contender.

Top to Bottom: T. Palmer, M. Rogers, A. Kute, J. Tarter, S. Kilik, B. Young, S. Stanford, R. Lee, D. Buckstad, M. Moeller, H. Son, S. Frederick, B. La France, G. Maasberg, M. Stepovich, C. Conrardy, D. Radecki, B. Taylor, Coach Gas-kins, J. Clark, T. Moore, J. Mrensko, D. Vanderpan, J. J. Morrissey.

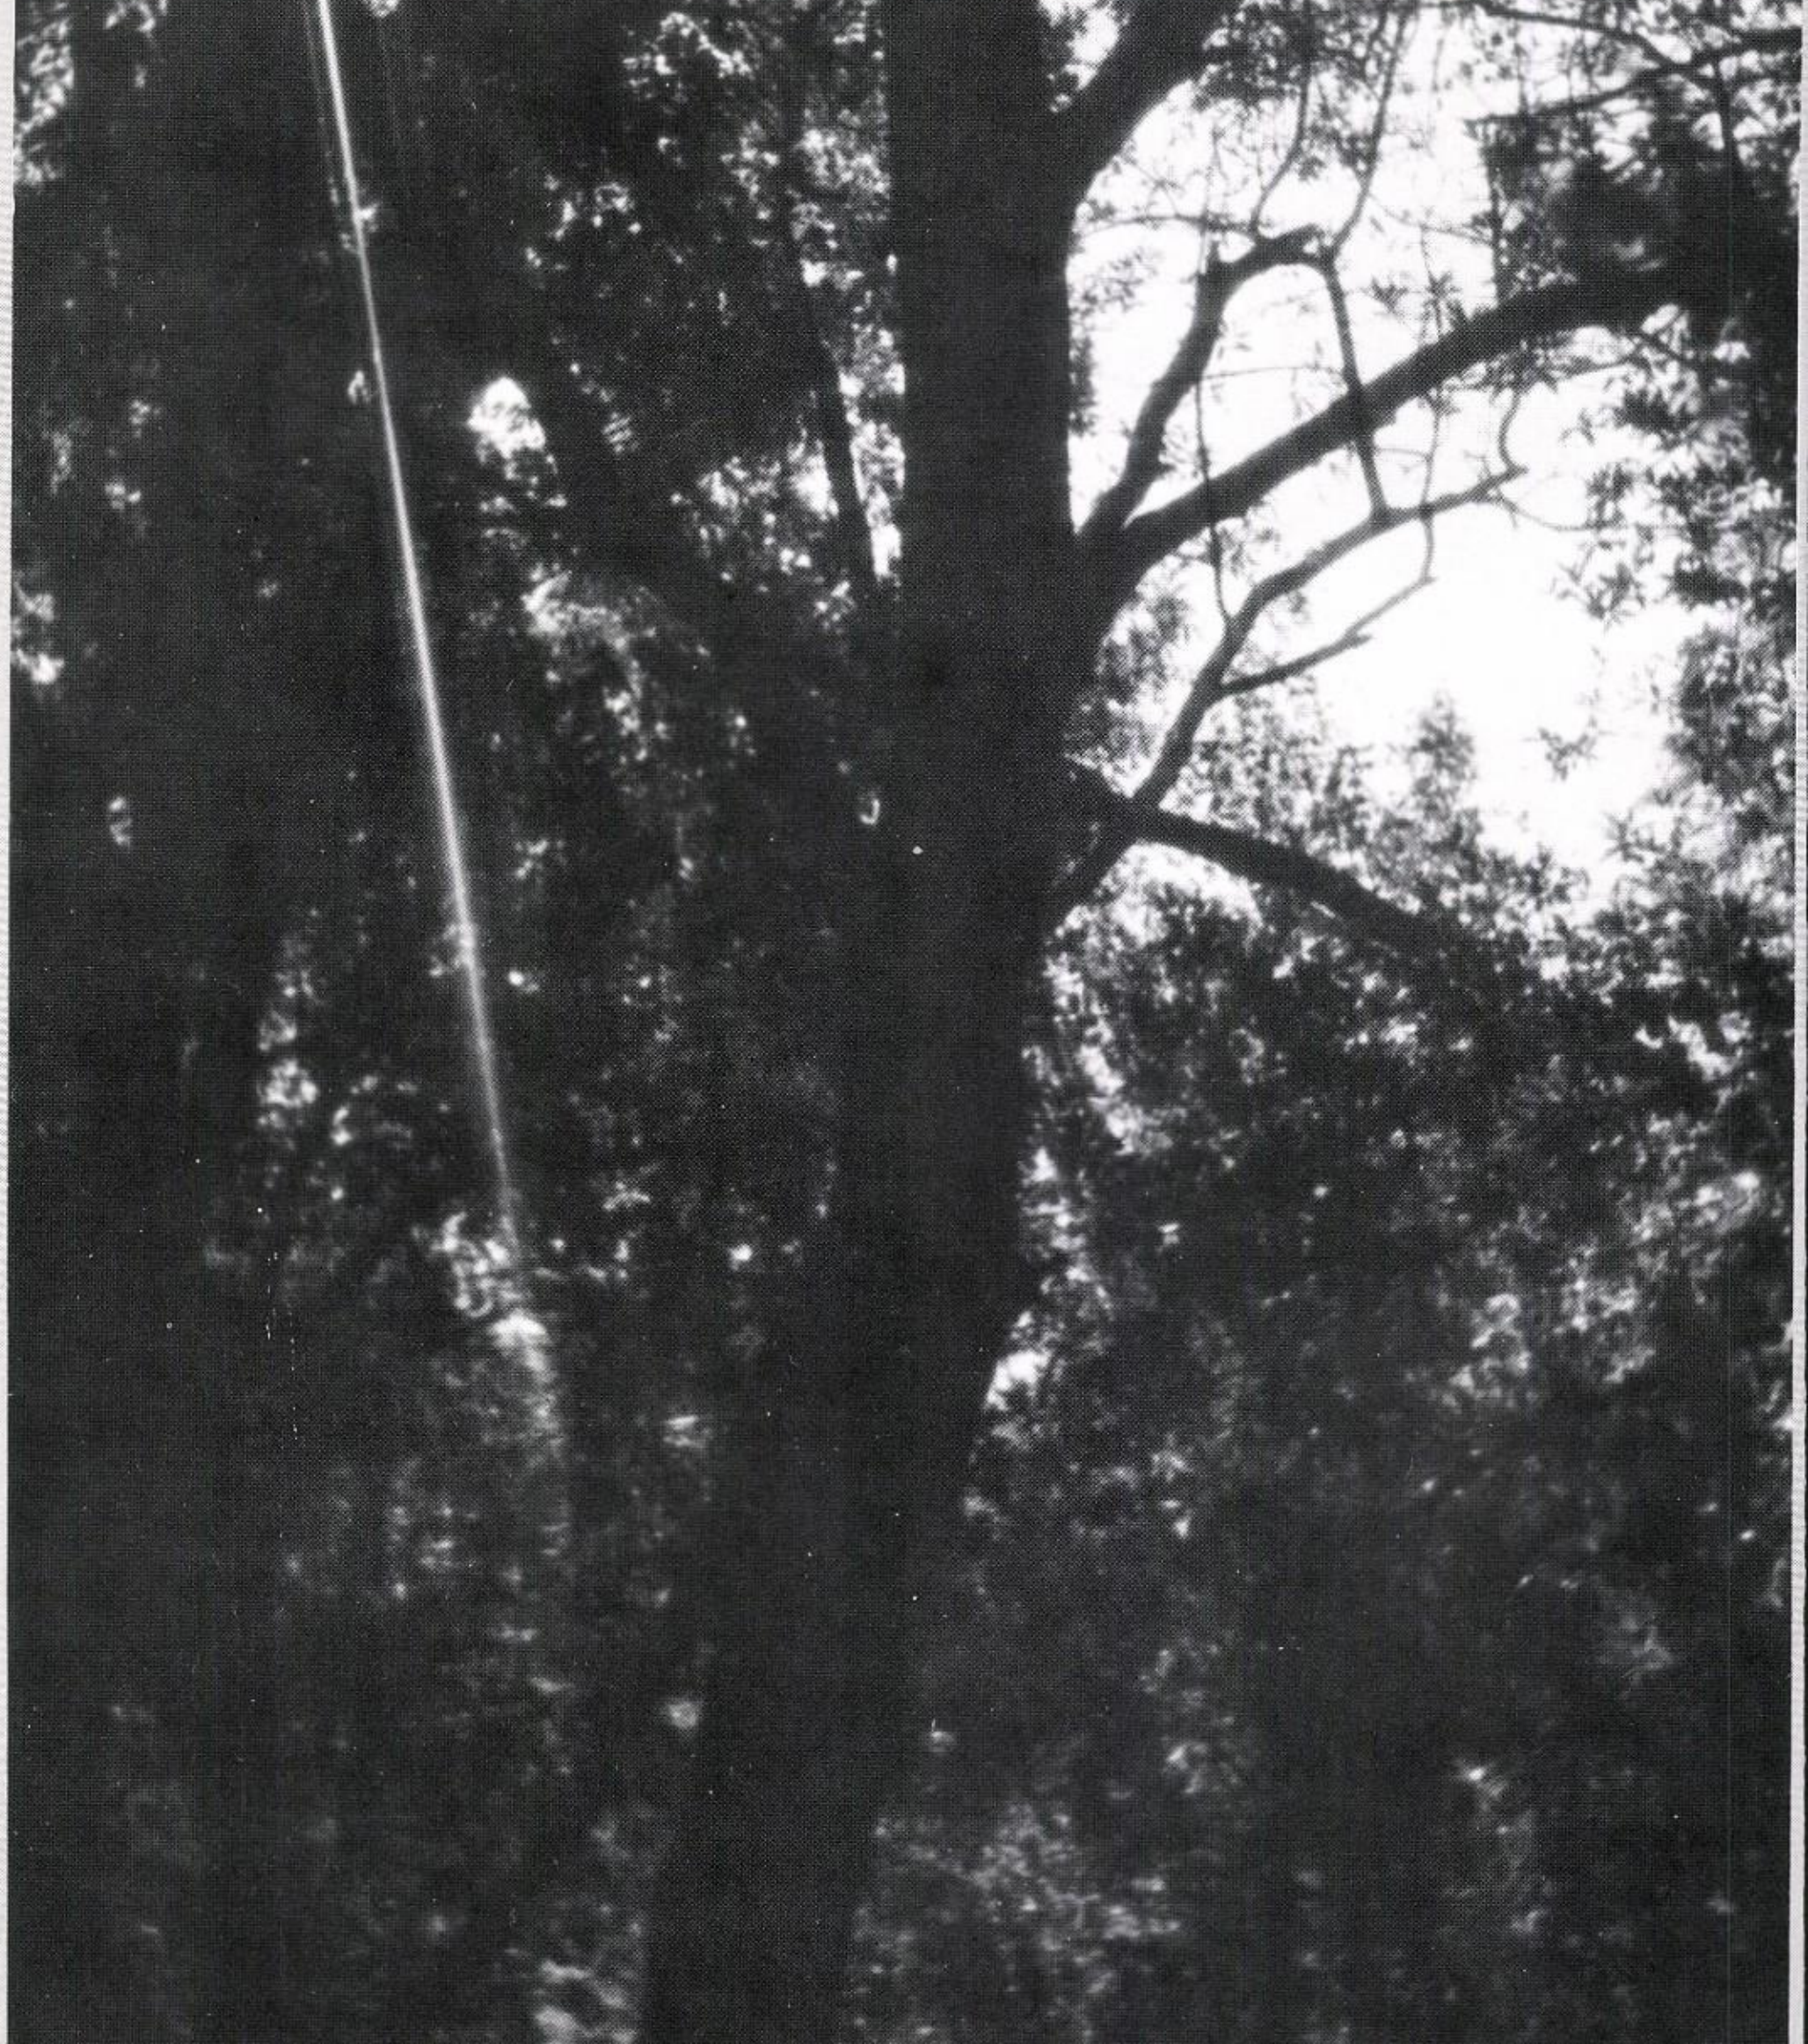

Although the J.V. Soccer team was mostly made up of rookies and had only three returning palyers, they ended up with quite a team. Of course, no one really enjoyed practicing knee-deep in mud, or playing games in the dark praying that the thing they just kicked was the ball, but what would soccer be without it? The best part of the season was showing our opponents just how good the Vikings can be. Next year most certainly promises to go all the way to the top!

Risa,
I'm glad we got to be better friends this year cause you were super sweet to me! You were always joking around - that made English more bearable. You were really cute in the aquacade show also! I know you'll have a super summer (partying & vacationing) See you next year. Love always - Risheth Armentano

A PART OF

Lisa,
So one very special friend Lisa, when I went to L.A. it was pretty tough adjusting but getting your letters sure helped me stand on my feet
I was dragging. Thanks for the special friendship you have in the past (and still do) shared with me. I hope I have been as much as a love to you as you to me!!
You're great and I know our friendship will always last. You go to Menlo, you still only live 5 min. away from me and will still go out & be radical Call me this summer (252-2146).

Love always

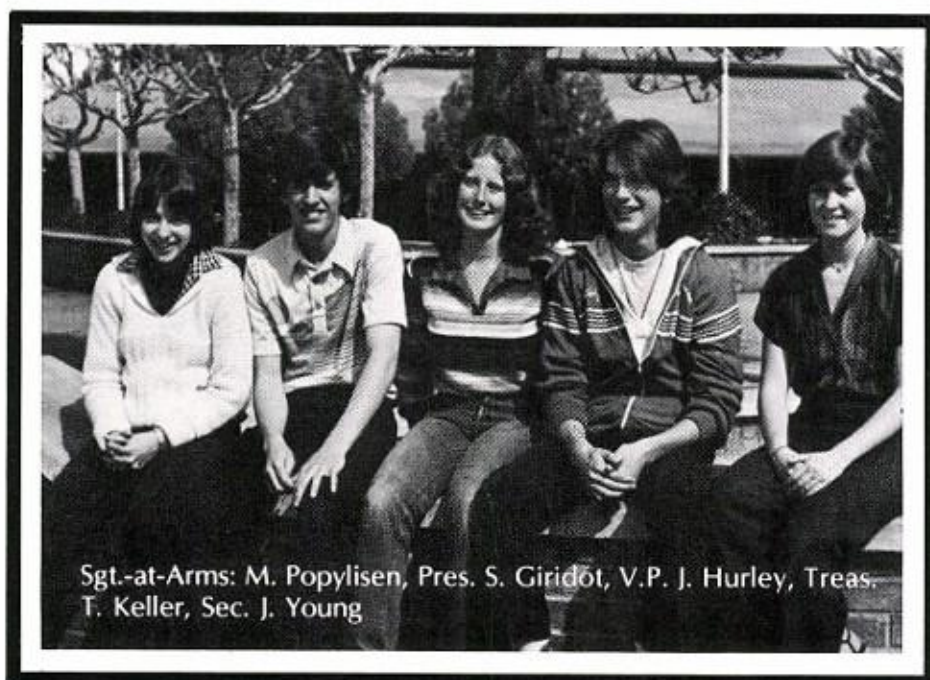

Lee H.

... SPRING

Activities.....page 168

Political upsets came to the A.S.B. Elections this spring, causing President Nicoletti to step down, after three semesters, to Steve Girardot. The election was exciting, with the presidential candidates neck and neck most of the way. Other elected officials joined the new president to begin their services to the A.S.B., and proved their ability to work with little resources to produce big things for the students. Tuesday a.m., special meetings, legislative council, fund raisers, and special services all showed that our representatives in student government really wanted to help and had that real Viking spirit!

It has been a tradition at Lynbrook High School for the fearless faculty (or in this year's case, coaches) to walk upon the basketball courts to battle the faculty of Miller Junior High. The game this year never had a dull moment, with the score staying too close for comfort until the last exciting minutes. The Lynbrook team showed their strategy superior by pulling through with a final score of 59-55. The referees were the fairest ever seen, (we won't mention that they were Lynbrook peers), but we know the reason for our glorious victory was the two brave women players! With the success of this year's basketball stars, next year could see the vikings turn up another well-deserved win in the annual FACULTY BASKETBALL game.

The drama department at Lynbrook was full of laughter and giggles with their professional staging of the spring play, "My Sister Eileen". The light comedy was not only enjoyable to watch, but as the cast soon learned, a joy to put together. The lead parts, those of Eileen and Ruth, were filled by Donna Hearn and Vera Djorjavich, while John Nicolletti was the "Artistic" Mr. Appopolous. Offstage, there were also jokes circulating, including Tony's heart pangs over Vera, Mr. B's favorite drink (Tab), and the occasional absence of Donna at the beginning of rehearsals. There were some wrinkles to smooth out, like Vera's uncontrollable bursts of laughter with Tony, and the hole in the platform that everyone kept falling through, but what are rehearsals for? The end result was the most successful play of the year, and one that brought a smile and a chuckle out of everyone who saw "My Sister Eileen".

Strings, horns, sheets of music, hours of practice, and Mr. Stroud all spell out one thing: the Lynbrook High School Band.

With such successes as the Christmas Concert, and the Santa Clara Honor Band, the LHS Band put a big mark in band history. As leader of the fine musicians, Stephen Stroud showed fine organization and precise direction; all were thankful for his dedication. Vienna was somewhat of a disappointment but maybe next year funds will be more plentiful (or less scarce) and our Band will be able to show the world that Lynbrook makes the finest sounds around!

Lynbrook was alive with the sound of music coming from our fine Choir. The Girls' Choir practiced for hours on end to polish up their performances. All members found the work gratifying, especially when they worked all together to make the best sounds. The Concert Choir seemed to be fooling around most of the time, but their concerts were no joke! This year's choir put on the best of shows, while having fun at the same time. Jazz Choir traveled around the city, and performed at Pier 39, Saratoga Village, Old Mill, and numerous other places to very receptive audiences. All choirs worked well together, and found memorable and valuable experience upon them at the end of a good year.

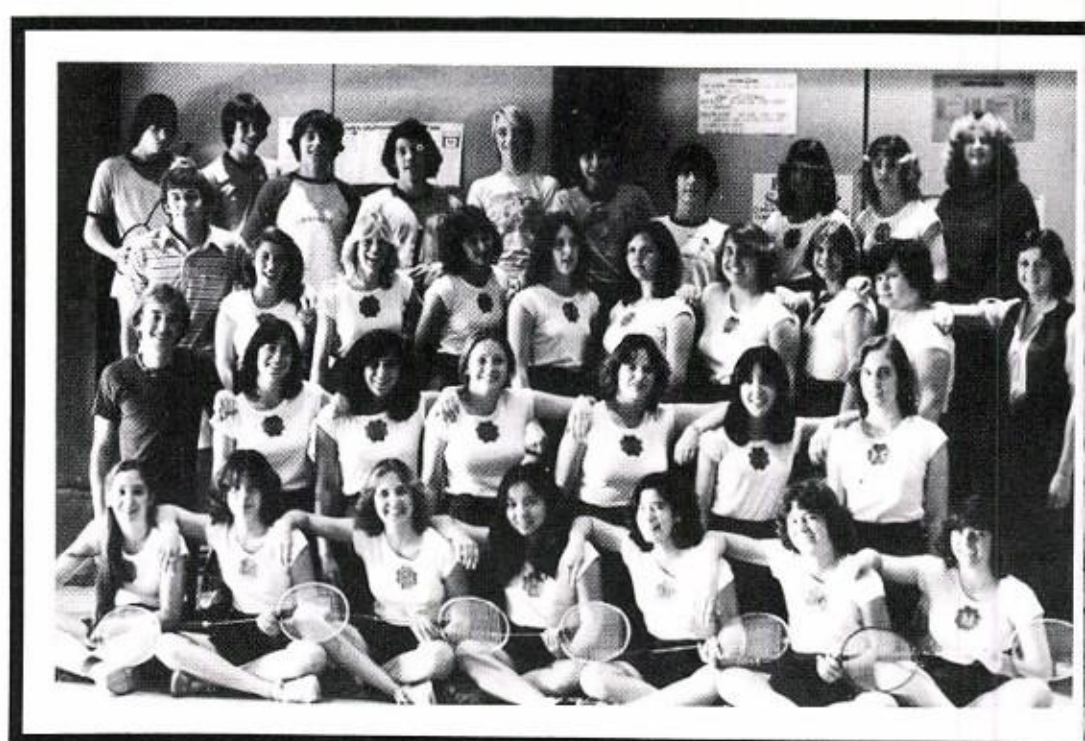

Art Showcase

The cry of "Watch the birdie" was often heard from our Lynbrook gym as the Badminton team practiced for perfection. Their enthusiastic coach, "Judy Baby", led the inexperienced players to new levels of skill. Being a co-educational team, the practices were rowdy and spastic. But, when it came down to the matches, the players really got down to business and finished the season in true Viking style.

Whoever can swim, float, and tread water gracefully certainly deserves credit, and this year's Aquacade class earned more credit than usual. Although non-competitive, the Aquacade girls worked hard to put on a beautiful show in May. Fourth period would always find Bathing beauties tanning on the deck or working hard to synchronize their movements to music. (which took long enough to find) Nose-plugs and hair driers made Aquacade something to remember, along with "Squid" and "Steeler" and of course, Mrs. Seltz and Karen McClaferty. All in all, the show was great, and so were the good times spent in the clear, blue water.

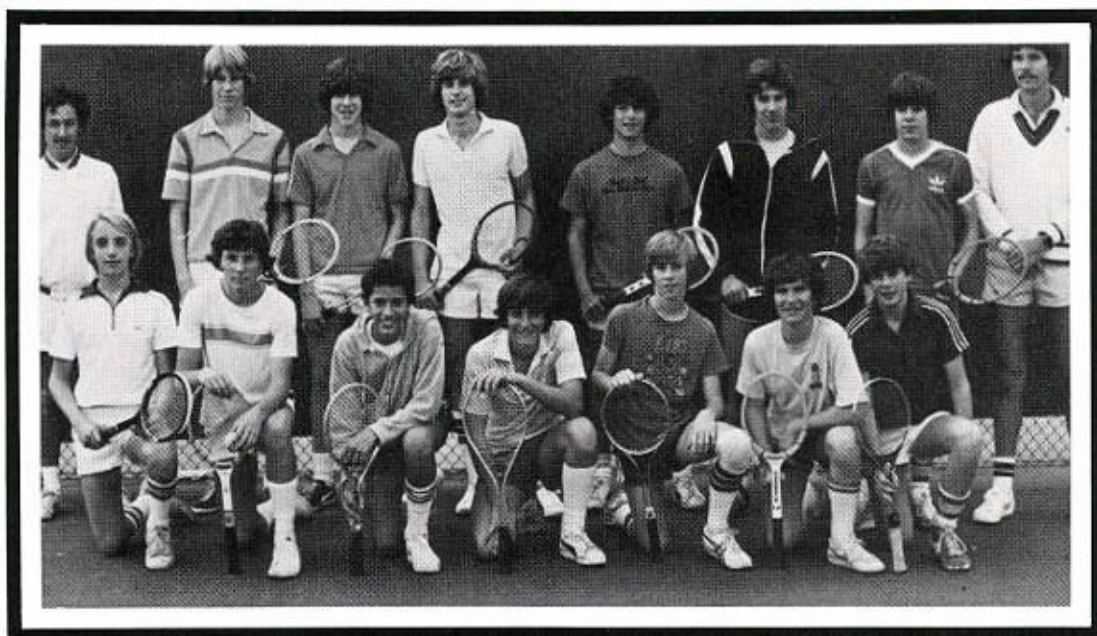

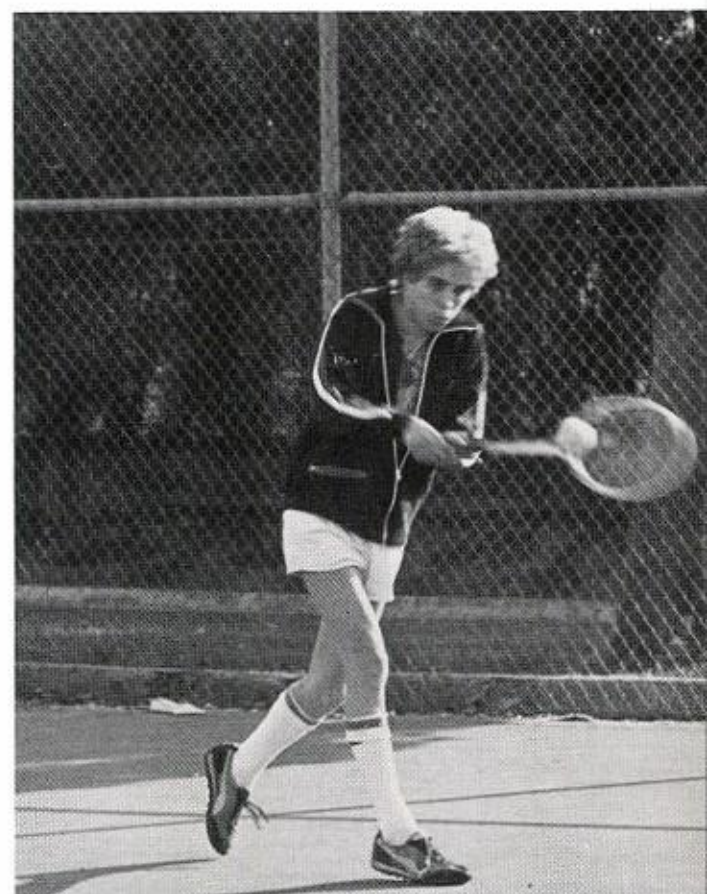

With a new coach and eager new players, the Boys' Tennis teams were looking towards a winning season. Team spirit was never lacking, and everyone worked and played together well, with quiet dedication throughout the long tedious practices. The coaches the orders of "100 forehands, 100 backhands, then rally!" didn't exactly uplift spirits, but they knew the key ingredients to success was practice, practice, practice! Running laps also became a daily ritual, even though some had their own ideas of how a lap should be run. (And they won't tell us their secret.) Training hard and sweating it out is what paid off for our kings of the court, and another sunny tennis season was finished with a fine Viking stand.

"Batter Up!" was heard by the Varsity Baseball team as they hit and fielded balls skillfully to finish a remarkable season. All players were strong this year, especially the teams favorites "Pudge", "Professor" and "Dirty Al". Bob Grover was this years coach, and he managed them well, even though he found some tobacco chewers and he "seed" eaters on his hands. Ted Hoffman's famous words of "We're Talkin!" will never be forgotten, nor will the First Annual Tobacco Spitting Contest. (we don't even know who won!) The team began their successful season with an upset over the high ranking Homestead team, and ended it with a fine standing in the D.A.L.

New talent and high batting averages ended up to be plentiful on the J.V. Baseball team. Although the never ending rain held the eager athletes from polishing up their fielding, the team still was able to pull things together. Dackerman and Percial desperately needed watchers, and Vasquez was'n't too good at hiding his pin-up (Couch Grover Accidentally Found IT), yet the laughs were always a nice "break" from the hard workouts. Sunflower seeds were everywhere (Bruce's), and they always seemed to end up in the Varsity room, but Lozano straightened him out.

Arnold Palmers at Lynbrook? No, but our Golf Team has some players that come pretty close! The team has grown in strength and number with each successive year, and this year is no exception. The golfers travel to the many golf courses in the valley, (Fairway Glen is their absolute favorite, right guys?), where they drive, chip, and putt up a storm. Dan gets a lot of criticism, ("Move your head, Dan, we can't see!") but the guys are a great group, who work hard out on the greens. One thing they have learned is to sign in before they teeoff, and not to hit OB's. Of course, these guys know that golf is a game with class, and they've got it!

Just add water to the Boys' Swim team, and you've got a dynamite bunch of swimmers. Half of the team was on the De Anza swim team, which made the Vikings bound for a high CCS standing. The team's new coach, Jeff Roy, was young yet experienced, and helped all swimmers crawl, stroke, and kick towards recordbreaking times. Dan Coran and Chris Cavanaugh led the way with outstanding performances, and the new freshmen and sophomores soon followed. The relay team was hopeful in breaking National records, and they definitely had the finest material to do it. The season ended with another Lynbrook ranked finishing, nothing but the best!

 Okawa, D. Williams, G. Reiner, Fifth row: K. Kirmse, B. Armstrong, B. Dugan, P. Roy.
 Missing: D. Coran, K. Cavanaugh, D. Riley.

Top row: Coach Perry, K. Smail, J. Cook, C. Lashbrook, S. Casena, Manager R. Anstant. Middle Row: K. Wilhelmi, J. Chartrand, J. Jefferies. Bottom row: H. Nunes, S. Horowitz, M. Butler, K. Pavloff

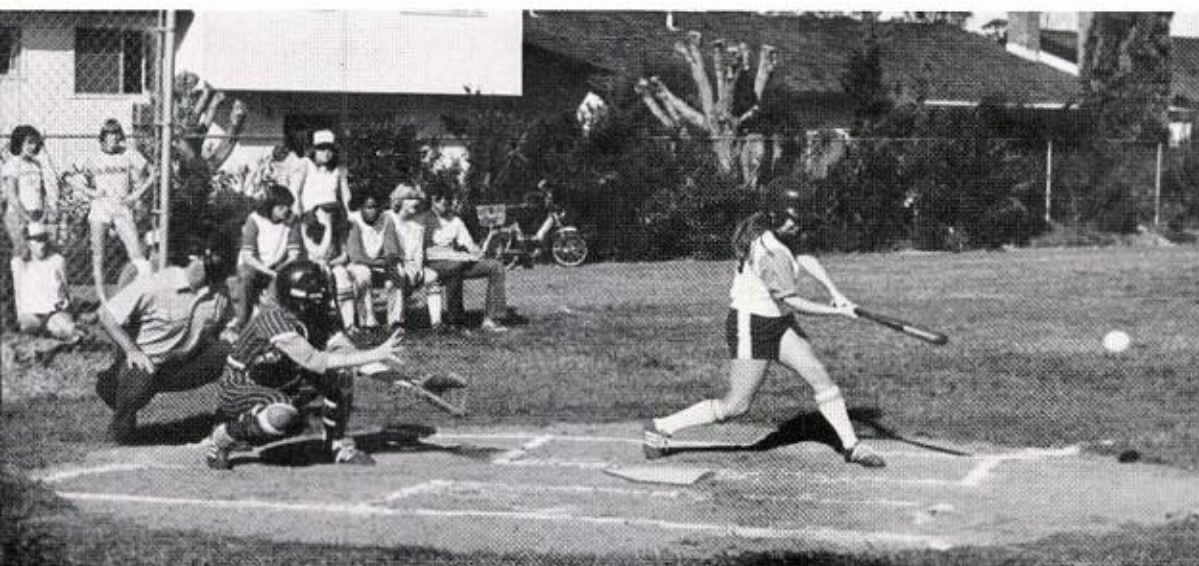

With Viking spirit to spur them on, the Varsity Softball team showed an over abundance of hitting and fielding ability. The young team, with only four returning players, practiced hard every day to make their appearance at the games a good one. Mary always looked cool in her shades. Julie, the human lizard, kept everyone laughing, and Killer Pavy was always on the go. Coach Perry did a fine job, even though he had to put up with Wilma's rock throwing and Sue's wandering eyes. (Look, Sue! the guys are running!) The season went well, lots of friends were made, and we once again showed that Lynbrook Softball is number one!

Spring

Swinging the bats and making the plays were easy things for the young, but determined, J.V. Softball team. Coach "Larshy-Babe" was successful in bringing out the skill in the players, although sometimes the signals were mixed up a little. With some good plays by Cornbread, Jugs, and Libby Labels, along with "Stretch" Armstrong's performance at first base, the J.V. team was a tough D.A.L. contender, Los Altos has the purple bat (somewhere), but without it, the team still pulled through with a proud season.

Starting the season later than usual, yet coming out on top earlier than usual, was our LHS Gymnastics team. The J.V. and Varsity teams saw themselves as one working unit bending, twisting, flipping, vaulting, and leaping towards their goal of a league championship. Leading the team was first time coach Linda Malone and returning graduate Kathy Brown. Team members and coaches had an extra tough job ahead of them because of injuries, but nothing can stop the Vikings. With a close knit team mixed with spirit, work, and skill, the LHS gymnasts made league competition and winning look easy.

What better way is there to finish a winning year at Lynbrook than to be on a CCS ranked Track Team? All five of the teams, Boys' Varsity, JV, and Frosh and the Girls' Varsity and JV were at practice everyday working on speed, strength, form, endurance and style. The many coaches, including Girls' head coach, Jerra Rowland, and Boys' head coach, John Bell, put their stop watches into good use (an 880 in what?), but the hard work paid off. It seemed that everyone was a member of a big, happy family, and always had an encouraging word to keep up the winning spirit. No season is complete without those familiar shin splints, or a strained muscle (but then again, running itself is a strain on the muscles.) Saratoga didn't have a chance against our jumpers, putters, hurdlers, and sprinters which goes to show why Lynbrook is the winningest team ever. No one will ever forget Watsonville, the West Valley Relays or the Quick Silver Classic, because we had our chance to show that the Vikings are unbeatable when it comes to our specialty—Track and Field!

Congratulations Class of 1980

Lisa,

This year has been pretty fun and interesting. Well in Aquacade we may have not found our fantasies but it put us one step further than we were. I hope that this summer goes good for you + you love (?). Thanks for all the jokes. It made the ~~chill~~ damp days a little brighter. You have alot going for ya so keep it up. Take Care. God Bless your sister.

Love Ya!

Well Lisa,

This has been a hell of a year. It went by so very fast. Lisa it seems as though we have been strangers, most of the year. Smith I knew I could have done more on my part to talk to you about our relationship and I didn't. Lisa it just seemed as though you only wanted Jamie as your friend. I knew a lot of things have been said and heard many of them were not intended to hurt, but just confused by not understanding the certain actions. I knew you were hurt by these words. I'm not going to say that I didn't say anything. But I never intended to hurt. I knew you were thinking about attending another school next year. I think that if you stayed for your jr. year you might get back some of your old friends if you want them. All that pain should be in the past now or Smith I knew that if you stay you could be friends with everyone and share Jamie with them. Lisa you are a special person. I know we, as a group, Lisa Ray, Jamie can all get along if we try. Please think about this seriously before making any final decisions. Because people do change and so can relationships. I'm sorry I couldn't say this to your face I knew it might have meant a lot more. But I can't write, better than talking.

Love

P.S. I hope you half way understand what I said. Please keep in touch with me. I know my mum and what I will be all summer.

LHS 1979-1980 was books * notes * finals * cheat sheets * admits * forging voices * announcements *

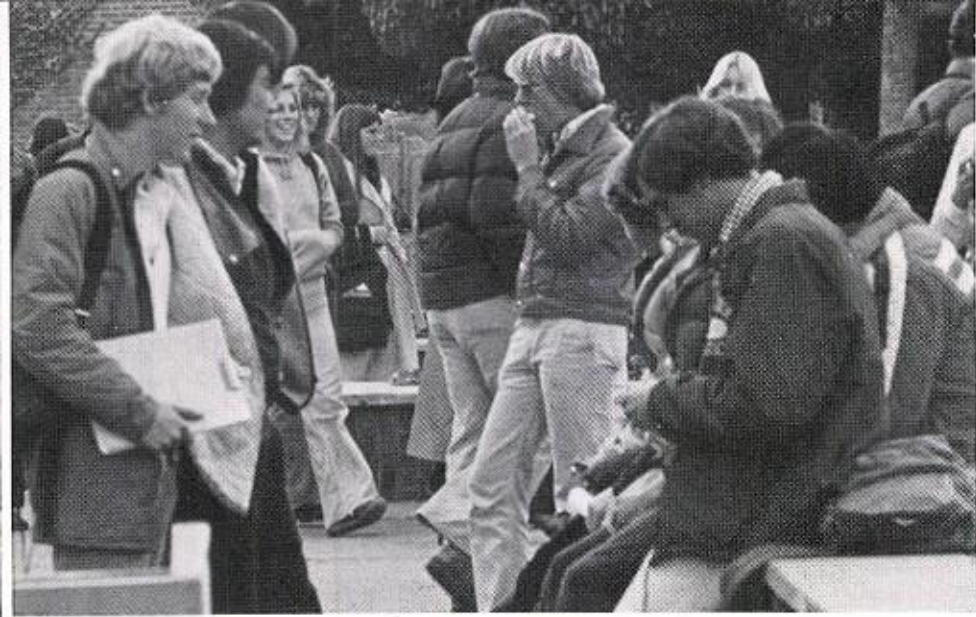

Somehow, somehow, we've got to believe that a whole year has gone by since we last remembered the sparkling sun, clear blue skies, and that pang in our hearts to wriggle our toes in the golden sands of Santa Cruz. The only reason we look forward to two-hour brain fizzling exams is because it will put the last touch upon our memories of the 1979-1980 school year. Happy, yet sad, eager, yet hesitant, we see ourselves saying good-bye to things that will forever be a part of us, like the first day at school, the jamboree, football games, parties, class rivalry, spirit week, the Christmas Ball, skiing, New Year's Eve, rain, rain, and more rain, spring fever, senioritis, junioritis, quiet freshmen, elections, vacations, finals, hot summer days, and, finally, freedom! We didn't always go through everything together, because sometimes we would rather be apart than a part; sometimes solitude was a relief from the everyday group that was deeply appreciated, yet avoided every now and then for some time to think about yesterday, today, and tomorrow. Yesterday's joys are our castles in the air, but today is real, and brings worries about those dreary things such as homework, tests, speeches, and (egads!) grades. Page after page and book after book pass (briefly) through our brains, which are also stuffed with thoughts of tomorrow. We never can tell what the new day has in store for us, and at times the future looks scary and unwanted. If we only knew whether our dreams would come true, then life would be much easier. But for now, we can pass off the time with a little bit of fun. Too much seriousness has never been a problem, and the laughs were always within us whenever things got a little heavy (which seemed like all the time). Problems plagued our world apart from Lynbrook, especially on the international scene. Fellow Americans were upset over the hostages in Iran, the Afghanistan crisis, and the soaring gas prices (time to pump up bicycle tires), and so were we. Never before had the draft for both men and women hovered so close over our reluctant heads, yet the tensions were

Hey Micky! Well this year is finally at end, and were a whole year bigger.

Thanks for being there when I needed you. We've been through a lot this year but it looks like we landed on our feet.

I wish you all the best next year if you go away. I hope you find all your dreams cause you deserve them. Well have a super summer and well do alot.

Aquacade turned out after all and we ended up having a good time.

soon eased with our other activities closer to home. Our own world apart from Lynbrook was full of different things. Whether it was a job, a sport, a club, or just plain relaxation, we found that we were creating for ourselves a road to satisfaction and accomplishment. At times we felt like doing something only for ourselves (long-live STYX, paraphernalia, and Togo's!); we work hard enough and deserve a break. Never a Friday passed when we didn't see a flood of faded jeans, and questions about party locations arose in class. All these things we did made time pass all right, but now it seems as if it went by too fast. Before we know it, that very-last day of school has come! Yearbook signing and locker cleaning are now much more important than those last hours of education, because we've had enough of division, nouns, dates, essays, integrals, fractions, novels, and chemical reactions. Now it's time to get our last look at what we've accomplished and grab a piece of it to cherish for years and years. Our experiences were always unique, yet shared with others who understood; they were truly our best of friends. The 1979-1980 school year is now something simply to reflect on as we grow independent, becoming more a part of ourselves and less a part of others who have always taken us under a protective wing. It's all over now . . . except the part that stays with us, the one which makes us remember, with a huge grin and a nostalgic thought, the goals, the victories, the love, the sharing, and the true, rewarding friendships that will live forever in our hearts. With one part behind, and many to come, we search for that truth which sets us apart . . . L'amour, L'esprit, et La liberté; nous sommes individuelles.

Hey there Sweetiecakes, ^{A story} Jimmy the toad said "ublit" to the flea. Then ate him.
as another year draws to a close, I find myself signing your yearbook. I must first discuss this matter of your leaving the school. Don't. If you do, look forward to the same treatment we devised for Lesbo. And about Rich (tee-hee, hee-tee). Remember, he loves you, will always love you, and oh god does he want you. He told me of his undying love for you and how he would sooner commit suicide than fuck the brains out of any girl but you. Anyway, I really had fun being in your [classes] ^{este amo}. Although I really didn't feel you ^{but continue with the sentence} reached your maximum fun potential in Roebuck's class. Reason, you did not stop or rub your thighs against mine. But also, do not get a permanent. It's too (oh boy, sometimes I'm just too much) permanent. Getting back to what I was saying before, I really do like the thigh rubbing, I damn near cream in my pants every time our thighs come near. Kneecaps, well, I don't even have to tell you about kneecaps. If I don't call you this verano, give me a call at 996-7811, that number again 112L-966. But enough of my antics. Did you ever notice that the word ante sounds a lot like the word antique. And an antique vagina is worth two in the brush. Well, I hope the rest of your life is super neat. Please don't die this summer.

Love very much,

Jeff

Oh, so you want me to take the whole ~~god~~ god-damn page huh, okay, then I'm just going to write bigger.

HOW ARE YOU?

But, I'm not that big of an asshole, am I?

Lisa, Lisa, Lisa, Lisa.

Oh, dear, dear Lisa, Lisa.

Lisa, Lisa, Lisa, Fred, Lisa.

I am really sorry that you didn't get along with Phyllis, Baby. I have arranged to see her this verano and hope to pluck her pubic hairs from her vagina. I will then paste them to the bottom of my mother's feet and lick her feet. Well sweetie, I am nearing the end of the page.

So I am going to tell you that you should use your fallopian tubes as baseball bats and if you want, I will send you some testicle hairs in a brown envelope for an appetizer sometime. See you and I will too.

Love Jeff

Lisa,

To the Best Lab partner I've ever had. Without your help I probably would fail more than I am now. If it wasn't for you sitting next to in Bio, I wouldn't have anything to dream about at night, and nothing to get excited about. But you came through in making my dreams come true (well almost all of them) there is still one unanswered question. But seriously, you're the nicest girl I know and my year would have ^{oppo} been a bumper without you. You have been one the Best friend I've ever had and I really appreciate it very much, you're so sweet and beautiful, and you make my day everytime I see you and talk to you. We have to make some films this summer so I can always remember you after you go to another school, I hate to see you go, but

Usa!
Hiya!! Hope you had a super-duper-Killer-Diller Year - but I'd be surprised if you said you did - since Mrs. Hanson and Mr. Falconer were kind of... well, you know! I'm glad you were in my classes though - you and Miss - crack me up when you talk about when you were little. Well, have an excellent summer - stay out of trouble, and good luck at your new school! Uw, Missy that's life I guess. Next year when you at your new school, you will have to call me and see if you can win the football bet Back, (Stamford + ALABAMA). I still owe you a trip to the Beach maybe we can go sometime soon ok.?

XXX OOO always

Lisa, It's been great knowing you these past two years. You're one of the nicest girls I know at this school. I hope to see you this summer.
Good luck!

Sister,
I think are the cutest & sweetest girl I know, honestly. You're just so outgoing & friendly & I love you for it. Somehow we managed to kind of drift apart this last quarter or so. Let's not let that happen ever again. I just love being near you & I really miss your closeness. We'll have to do something together this summer. Let's keep in touch OK!!!!!! Cause Sister, I miss you & I can't afford not to see you for over a week. I truly think you're beautiful so take care of yourself & keep in touch. & Sister I just want you to know I truly love you deeply & I know I always will.

Love every day,

Tim Ward.

LISA, can what can I say? WE MET IN 8TH GRADE
AND ITS BEEN UPHILL EVER SINCE. Especially
I HOPE THINGS REALLY DO GO GOOD
BETWEEN YOU TWO. BUT WHO AM I
TO SAY WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN THE FUTURE. You're a GREAT FRIEND AND CALL ME OVER THE SUMMER. PROMISE!
You AND JAIME HAVE MADE ME LAUGH SO MANY TIMES IT'S NOT EVEN FUNNY HA!
